

FOES 'CONTEMPTIBLE QUITTERS,' CRIES WILSON; SENATE TREATY FIGHT ENTERS FINAL PHASE

READY FOR ACTION BY SENATORS TUESDAY

Four Reservations, Several Changes In Text Will Be Reported

PARTY LINES BROKEN WHEN BALLOT TAKEN

Hitchcock Will Represent and Repeat Arguments of Administration

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The senate treaty fight entered its final phase today. The foreign relations committee has finished work on the pact which President Wilson submitted to the senate July 10.

As soon as the treaty can be reprinted for amendments and the report on it written, Senator Lodge will lay it before the senate. This will occupy some days and the actual consideration of the treaty, article by article, as required by senate rules, probably will not begin for more than a week.

As the senate will receive it from the committee, the treaty will contain several important changes in its text and carry four reservations as part of the resolution of ratification.

Adoption of these reservations late yesterday, in a two-hour committee session, broke down the lines which had formed on other questions when Senator Shields, Democrat, voted with the Republican majority in favor of the reservations and expressed sympathy with the purpose of the fourth.

McCumber on Record

Senator McCumber, Republican, who has steadfastly refused to join his party colleagues in amending the treaty textually, also voted for two of the reservations and expressed the belief that without reservations the treaty must fail. The real battle from now on, it is conceded by both sides, will center on the reservations.

The majority report of the committee will be voluminous. Senator Lodge said today he plans to discuss the amendments and reservations fully and to set forth the reasons for their adoption.

Following submission of the majority report, Senator Hitchcock, ranking Democrat of the committee, will present a minority report in which he will repeat arguments the administration has made against amendments or reservations which will force re-submission of the treaty to other nations.

The reservations proposed by the majority would do this, for the resolution of ratification, in which they are embodied, provides that the senate's ratification shall not be effective until the four reservations have been affirmatively acted on by at least three of the other four principal powers, England, France, Italy and Japan.

Expect Big Struggle

Upon this provision there will be senators predicted, a tremendous struggle. Lodge and his supporters declare it must be made part of the ratification, so there can be no doubt that the senate's interpretation of the treaty is understood and accepted by the other powers, or a majority of them.

President Wilson, however, and all his supporters have declared again and again that such re-submission would spell disaster to the treaty or delay the actual operation of the peace settlement and treaty or delay the actual operation of the peace settlement and might in the end overturn all that has been done in Paris.

The reservations adopted cover withdrawal of the league, article 10, domestic questions and the Monroe doctrine.

The first provides that the right of

Fluffy White Dog Proves To Be $10,000 Smuggler

Russian Banker's Wife Hides Jewels Inside Pet's Thick Collar

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A fluffy little white pet poodle caused considerable of a flurry at the customs house here when he arrived with his mistress, Mrs. Nikolai Shiwetsoff, wife of a former banker at Moscow, Russia.

The customs officers seemed to be quite attached to the little dog and not only petted him and fondled the little fellow but one inquisitive officer began to admire his collar. The collar was a thick affair with a large gold box-like buckle. The customs man thought it might be a good idea to examine the collar just a bit more closely so he took it off the dog. Inside the collar was found $10,000 worth of diamonds and other jewels that could be packed away in small space.

The banker's wife did not make much fuss about the accusation of smuggling made against her, declaring that the collar had served its main purpose—to get the jewels past the border guards in Russia and keep them safe for her until she arrived in America. The customs were paid at once and doggie and his valuable collar released.

OPENING BROKERAGE OFFICE AT FRESNO

The two best known officials of the Pacific Telephone Co. in Southern California have resigned their positions and are going to Fresno to enter business as stock brokers. They are C. F. Mason, division superintendent, and J. A. Lynch, district commercial superintendent.

Lynch is very well known in Santa Ana, where some ten years ago he was manager for the Pacific phone. Since leaving here he has advanced steadily in the company's employ.

At Fresno a new stock brokerage business is being opened up. The firm name there is Mason & Owen. Lynch has recently been added to the firm. An up-to-date office with telephone connections for stock reports has been equipped. The firm will be representatives of the well known brokers, Logan & Bryan. Lynch has been in the telephone business for twenty-one years.

9 INJURED IN BLAST AT SALT LAKE HOTEL

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 5.—Nine persons were injured, three seriously, in a dynamite explosion that partially wrecked a four-story hotel on the west side early today. It is believed to have been the work of the Black Hand. All the injured were Italians.

Twenty women and children were taken down fire ladders by the fire department. The injured were taken to the emergency hospital.

12 KILLED IN WRECK

TOULOUSE, France, Sept. 5.—Twelve persons were killed and forty injured when express trains from Paris and Bordeaux collided near here today.

PRESIDENT ASKED BY GOMPERS FOR AID

Conference With U. S. Steel Corporation Heads Sought By Workers

FEARS GREAT STRIKE IF MATTER DELAYED

Employees Are Restrained For Present But May Quit Any Time

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Acting for steel workers, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, today wired President Wilson asking him to use his influence in arranging a conference with the United States Steel Corporation.

Wilson is asked to make his reply before Tuesday, when the presidents of twenty-four international unions of the steel industry will be here to decide on future action. The telegram declares that while the men have been restrained from striking, they are "indignant" and that a strike now might endanger the whole structure which the president has built up for the adjustment of industrial disputes.

The message declares that "having thus far been enabled to prevail upon the men not to engage in a general strike, the labor leaders cannot now affirm how much longer we will be able to exert that influence."

Judge Gary, head of the U. S. Steel Corporation, has refused two appeals to meet a committee of steel workers. Following this, Gompers and the steel men visited President Wilson and laid the whole case of the steel men before him.

Help Promised, Belief

The telegram sent today was taken to indicate that the president at that time had told the steel men he would try to bring about a conference.

The telegram was framed at a meeting here of the national organization committee of the steel industry. It reads:

"The executive committee, representing the various international unions in the various iron and steel industry met today to consider the condition which exists in many of the iron and steel industry centers. The coercion, the brutality employed to prevent men and unions from meeting in the open air, the thuggery of the corporation's emissaries, the wholesale discharge of numbers of men for no reason other than the one assigned

Calls for Volunteers

I REGRET to say that the citizens of Santa Ana have not bought the buttons for the Orange County War Service Recognition Association as freely as they should.

We are way short of the amount of money we need to do our bit in this matter. In order to do our share I am going to call on the women of Santa Ana to volunteer to put this over. I want a woman in each block in Santa Ana to call me on the phone, Sunset 1381-J, and volunteer to sell the buttons. I will bring the buttons to be sold to the volunteer.

The women of Santa Ana have always saved the day, and I have the utmost confidence that they will come forward now and help out.

Men and women of Santa Ana, all together to honor those brave boys who protected our honor in the dark days of the war!

JOHN G. MITCHELL,
City Chairman.

Nine U. S. Soldiers Shot, One Hanged for Offenses in War

PARIS, Sept. 5.—Nine soldiers of the American Expeditionary Force were hanged and one was shot for criminal offenses during the war, it was revealed today at the investigation of A. E. F. courts-martial by the congressional committee inquiring into war expenditures.

Two of the hangings were for murder, the investigation brought out. Seven men were hanged for rape, of whom six were negroes. There was a single execution for desertion.

Murder trials totalled 110, resulting in 62 convictions. One fifth of all the general courts martial were officers and the rest enlisted men and welfare workers. Most of the officers were charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Conviction resulted in sixty-seven per cent of officers' cases which went to trial. Seventy seven per cent of the men tried by general courts-martial were found guilty.

Only one conscientious objector was tried.

The investigation failed to establish that officers had received more lenient treatment than enlisted men in the A. E. F. courts-martial.

REDFIELD TO LEAVE CABINET BY OCT. 15 FOR PRIVATE WORK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield today announced that he had resigned and expected to quit his post the latter part of October.

"Personal affairs require my attention," Redfield said. "August 1 I wrote to President Wilson asking relief by October 15. Later when I found he was going to be gone during September 1 I offered to remain two weeks longer."

Redfield emphatically denied that he was resigning because his "pet plans" had not been adopted. He said there has been no quarrel or disagreement of any kind.

Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board during the war, is mentioned prominently as a possible successor, although it is said Baruch has refused other offers of official position.

NEW CURB IS PLACED ON VICIOUS RADICALS

ALBANY, Sept. 5.—Added protection against the bomb thrower and carrier of concealed weapons is expected to result from the amendment to the penal law which became effective today.

The provisions of the new law are very strict. No boy under 15 is allowed to carry a slung shot, while a person who carries or possesses a bomb or bombshell, or possesses an explosive substance with intent to use it against the person or property of another is guilty of a felony.

Under the new statute, aliens are not to be given permits to carry concealed weapons. The new law defines a weapon that can be concealed as a black-jack, billy, club, sandbag, metal knuckles, bludgeon, dagger, dirk, dangerous knife, razor, stiletto, pistol or firearm of such size that it can be concealed about the person.

TAKE $600 DAMAGE CASE FROM CALENDAR

The case of W. H. Perry against Julius Fischer of Fullerton for $600 damages as the result of an automobile accident was taken off the calendar in Department 1 of the superior court today, following a third call of the case. The court was to have ruled on a demurrer, entered by Fred O'Farrell of San Diego for Fischer, in which the latter claims that it is impossible to determine from Perry's complaint in what manner Fischer's actions were careless, negligent and unlawful, as Perry alleged. Perry's complaint also is vague, Fischer's demurrer states, on the point of whether the $600 damages asked is for damages to Perry's automobile or for personal injuries to him or for amounts expended for the repair of Perry's car.

BEAR VALLEY FORMS COMMERCE CHAMBER

REDLANDS, Sept. 5.—A new Chamber of Commerce was born this week in a meeting of 150 resort and other property owners in Bear Valley. It is expected there will be 300 members of the organization and that it will conduct an extensive advertising campaign and an organized movement for better roads and other improvements. J. H. Lowe is president; B. G. Homes, vice-president and C. H. McKnight, secretary-treasurer.

SHARPRAPS ARE TAKEN IN BITTER SPEECH

President, Grim Faced, Starts Real Fight In Talk at St. Louis

OPPONENTS BETRAYING SOLDIERS, HE ASSERTS

Great Reception Is Given Party; Address Cheered at Luncheon

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5.—"Absolutely contemptible quitters" was the epithet applied by President Wilson this afternoon to those who refused to go through with America's program to end all war which Wilson believes can be accomplished by means of the League of Nations.

In a speech at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon here he bitterly denounced those who seek to prevent the United States joining the league.

"I brought home with me from the other side of the water a great document—a great human document," he declared, "but after you hear it talked about in Washington for a while you think that it has just about three or four clauses in it."

"You fancy that it has a certain article 10 in it, that it has something about Shantung in it, that it has something about the Monroe doctrine in it, that it has something about quitting, withdrawing from the league, showing that you do not want to play the game and I do not hear about anything else in it."

Just Mere Details.

"Why my dear fellow citizens these are mere details and incidents of a great humane enterprise and I now have the privilege of telling you what I conceive a humane enterprise to be."

Discussing the men who said the United States should not go to war "to protect every little nation in the world," the president said:

"Let me hear now how they will keep out of war by not protecting them. Let them show me how they will prove that having gone into an enterprise they are not absolutely contemptible quitters if they don't see the game through."

"They joined with the rest of us in the profession of a fine purpose when we went into the war. They went in and they professed to go in to see that nobody, after Germany's defeat, should repeat the experiment Germany tried. Those gentlemen are dreaming. They are living in a past age which has gone and is all but forgotten when they say 'we can mind our own business.'"

Outbursts of Cheering.

Outburst after outburst of cheering Wilson's attack on the foes of the treaty. He spoke with vigor and stuck out his jaw pounding on the rail for emphasis.

With regard to Shantung, Wilson said he believed Japan would fulfill its promise to restore that province to China. If article ten, which guarantees members of the League of Nations protection against external aggression should be tampered with, Wilson said he would feel like telling the American soldiers that they had been betrayed

Foes of Treaty Sharply Assailed

Wilson in Fighting Trim to Use Oratorical Rough Stuff If It Is Necessary

By HUGH BAILLIE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 5.—President Wilson, driving through the territory of opposition senators in his campaign for ratification of the peace treaty, arrived in St. Louis today, ready to make two speeches.

Wilson "has his fighting clothes on," it has been stated informally on his special train, and he is ready for a rough and tumble verbal tussle with opponents of the peace settlement. He is ready to "bloody them," according to those close to him.

This change in tactics on the president's part first became noticeable last night at Indianapolis, where he told those resisting the treaty to "put up or shut up" and to keep quiet unless they had a better plan than he believes his to be for preserving world peace.

Wilson, it was learned, is going to put more such fighting phrases into his discourses hereafter, using slang that the people can understand to make himself more clear, in contrast to his epigrams of previous speaking tours.

Heart to Heart Talks

Wilson obviously is trying to make his addresses more like "heart to heart" talks than orations. So far he has made no spectacular effort and never has appeared like a declaimer. What he wants to do, it was learned, is to expound the treaty. He thinks it is not generally understood; that those who do not like it do not know what it's all about, and, going on this theory, he intends to go into minute detail on many phases of it.

In effect, he says to his audience, "your senators don't understand this document, so I'm going to explain it to you and then you can tell your senators how to vote on it."

This is the object of his journey. So far he has talked principally about the league of nations. His trend is that, with the league, war will be made "violently improbable," while without the league another war will develop as soon as nations with predatory instincts have recovered from the last upheaval and feel that an opportune time to strike has come.

League War Preventative

Points in the league covenant and the treaty terms which are open to criticism are insignificant compared with the single fact that the league is a war preventative. In his opinion, Wilson is laying emphasis on his conviction that nations which violate the "league rules" can be forced to submit without the sacrifice of a single life in warfare. This could be brought about, he believes, by the application of a boycott which would hermetically seal the offending power, preventing all intercourse with it. This, he said, "is a terrible weapon" which is provided under the covenant.

The president will develop his line of argument as he moves westward. His advisers say he is not even using shorthand notes now, but is talking about what comes into his mind as he faces each crowd. After every speech he shows eagerness to get on to the next point and make another one.

He dislikes prepared speeches, believing they lose their enthusiasm and much of their forcefulness and "cool off" before delivery.

Another thing Wilson has sought to drive home is that he is not seeking to make the treaty a political issue. He is touring as a democrat, he said at Indianapolis, but as a democrat with a small "d."

"I would be ashamed to discuss this matter as a democrat and not as an American," he said at Richmond, Indiana.

Wants All to Know

Wilson is keenly anxious for his words to be placed before the largest possible number of readers and he has frequently asked little groups about the rear platform of his car to read his speeches in the newspapers.

Although the president had no idea of making rear platform speeches when this tour was planned, it seems likely he will deliver them in increasing numbers.

At every stop there are cries of "tell us about it, Woodrow," from those who cluster about his car. At first he tried to pass this off with talk about the weather or about what a fine looking town "you folks have here." Apparently he now believes, however that there is something to be gained by briefly addressing every handful of voters that he can reach, and he has begun to respond to the demand, "How about it, Woodrow?" "Tell us something about it, Speech!" "Woodrow" is the name most frequently heard when crowds greet the president. "Wilson" is shouted, of course, but many call for "Woodrow" or for "Woody."

Women in the crowds evidently want to see Mrs. Wilson more than they want to see the president. Shrieks of "Mrs. Wilson—show us Mrs. Wilson!" ring out over the men's bass shouts, and if she doesn't appear they become more insistent.

"Go on; bring her out! We want to see her," one sun-bonneted woman yelled at the president in a town in Indiana.

"Very well," said the president. "But she's more shy than I am."

Mrs. Wilson Appears

A moment later Mrs. Wilson, all smiles, and with a bunch of flowers in her arms, stepped upon the platform. A prolonged "ah-h-h-h" from the feminine element, then "speech! Mrs. Wilson," whereupon the first lady of the land beat a retreat.

Wilson has not yet gone into the Shantung question or the matter of Britain's votes in the league of nations council, two of the most criticized points of the peace treaty. From remarks he has dropped, however, it is known he believes Japan will restore Shantung to China after the treaty has been ratified, and he probably will discuss this soon.

League foes have said the British empire had six votes to America's one in the league council. Wilson intends to explain this in an early speech.

He holds that Britain has but one vote in the league council and that its votes in the league assembly could not be cast in any dispute in which the empire or any part of it was involved.

The high cost of living and its relation to ratification of the treaty will be brought up by the president shortly. At the first favorable opportunity, it is believed he intends to make an attempt to put opponents of the treaty in the position of men who are keeping up prices, on the theory that prices cannot be restored by ratification.

Will Not Enter Debate

Wilson's advisers say he has no intention of engaging in a debate with anti-leaguers in the senate, while on this trip. He doesn't believe that such a debate would bring out what he wants to develop with regard to the treaty and the reasons why he thinks it should be accepted, and he would have to devote time to answering senators, which he would rather devote to explaining cloudy clauses in the covenant.

SENATE TREATY FIGHT ENTERS LAST STAGE WILSON BITTER IN ATTACKING ENEMIES

Reservations and Changes In Text to Be Given Solons Tuesday

The United States to withdraw, as provided in article 1, shall not be conditioned upon fulfillment of international obligations or upon any other nation's "say so" as to whether this country has fulfilled its obligations.

The second reservation exempts the United States from any obligation under article 10 of the league covenant to guarantee the territorial integrity or political independence of any other nation, member of the league or not, by force of arms or economic boycott, unless congress shall decide the cause requires American participation, and it refuses acceptance by any nation States of a mandate for any nation except by congressional consent.

The third reserves all domestic questions, such as tariff, immigration and coastwise traffic, to the jurisdiction of the United States.

The fourth asserts that the Monroe doctrine will never be submitted by this government to arbitration or to interpretation by the league or foreign powers.

The amendments to the text of the treaty include:

Returning Shantung to China instead of giving it to Japan; giving the United States an equal number of votes with Great Britain in the league assembly and providing that in event of size or voting strength of the council shall change, the United States shall have votes equal to those of any other nation; preventing Great Britain's colonies from voting in any dispute between Great Britain and any other countries; eliminating the United States from membership on a score of committees set up to carry out the provisions of the treaty and limiting the power of the American member of the reparations committee, except as to disposition of German shipping.

because they had fought to end war and failed.

In conclusion he solemnly warned that failure of the treaty would mean war, saying:

"There will come sometime another struggle in which not a few hundred thousand fine men from America will have to die, but as many millions as are necessary to accomplish the final freedom of the peoples of the world."

Crowds which cheered and with waving flags struggled to break through police lines and swarm about the automobile, greeted President Wilson when he arrived here today.

The noise of voices mingled in tremendous shouts of welcome was continuous all the way from the outskirts of the city, where the presidential special stopped, to the hotel where Wilson went for a short rest before making his speech.

Wilson's smile was always in evidence as he flourished his straw hat in response, sometimes standing up in his automobile to bow his appreciation.

Ranks of troops from Jefferson barracks presented arms as the president and Mrs. Wilson stepped from the train as a military band played "The Star Spangled Banner." The crowds at this point rushed the lines of soldiers, good naturedly jostled aside the boys in khaki who carried rifles with fixed bayonets and massed around Wilson's machine, striving to shake hands.

In addition to the people on the sidewalks along the route to the hotel, every window was filled and many were on the roofs.

Signs had been posted in a number of windows bearing such messages as "Tell it to 'Em, Woodrow," and "We're With You, Woodrow." One automobile bearing a huge placard demanding the lifting of the wartime prohibition dodged down side streets and confronted the president at a number of points. It was filled with women, shrilly cheering and waving banners.

Troops Guard Hotel

More troops were drawn up in the streets around the hotel and every entrance was guarded. The lobby was packed. As Wilson walked in a band in a gallery struck up a lively tune. The president paused at the elevator a few moments to talk with members of the reception committee, then went to his suite.

Mrs. Wilson received much applause, especially from the women, and her name was frequently heard along the line of march, along with the cries of "Woodrow!" Women dodged the police and ran alongside the president's automobile to get snapshots of her, begging her to "look this way, please, just for a minute," and "Mrs. Wilson, let's see your face."

The reception at St. Louis was held by many in the president's party to be the most enthusiastic he has received since he left Washington.

that they have become members of the unions, have brought about a situation that it is exceedingly difficult to withhold or restrain the indignation of the men and the resistance that they declared it is their purpose to present.

Strike Held Off

"The executive committee relying upon the case as presented to you last week and your earnest declaration to endeavor to bring about an honorable and peaceful adjustment of the matters in controversy have thus far been enabled to prevail upon the men not to engage in a general strike."

"We cannot now confirm how much longer we shall be able to exert that influence, but we urge you in the great work in which you are engaged to give prompt attention to this most vital of issues; for if the men can no longer be restrained, it is impossible to foretell what the future may hold in store for an international crisis which may ensue and frustrate the projects which you have worked at for a peaceful and honorable adjustment of industrial affairs in our country."

It was learned today, however, that the president's action in leaving the nomination of men who will be invited to the "round table" to the various organizations has won him positive labor support. Secretary Morrison took the view that labor would have confidence only in men selected by the American Federation of Labor.

SUGAR FACTORY IS WINNER IN UPPER COURT

Decision May Knock Out Road Improvement District at Anaheim

In its fight to break the legality of the formation of Road Improvement District No. 1, organized for the purpose of paving the unpaved portion of the state highway between Anaheim and Fullerton, the Anaheim Sugar Co. has won a decision in the Supreme Court reversing the decision of the superior court of this county. This decision of the Supreme Court may mean that the district is knocked out of existence. District Attorney West said today that that point could not be determined until a copy of the decision is received.

Several years ago a number of owners of property along the state highway between Anaheim and Fullerton started a movement to pave that street to the curbs, finishing the street on each side in addition to the central strip paved by the state. A. A. Mills was the moving spirit in the enterprise.

Organization proceedings were undertaken under a state law. The district was organized with boundaries that included the Anaheim Sugar Co. factory. The assessed valuation of that plant was so great in comparison to the rest of the district that the sugar company found itself up against taxes totaling in a three-year period well over $22,000 out of $30,221.26, which is the amount that has actually been paid in.

The sugar factory officials resented the fact that the organizers of the company had taken the plant into the district without consulting them. They also declared that so far as actual value to the sugar factory was concerned, the paving was nothing.

The first year, and each of the four years in which taxes were paid in, the sugar factory paid under protest. Suit for the money paid the first year, $7,407.23, was brought. The complaint alleged that the proceedings did not conform to the requirements of the state law. It was declared that a description published in a legal notice prepared by the district's attorney did not conform to the description of the district. Other defects were alleged.

In the superior court here, a demurrer was interposed, alleging that even if the facts alleged in the complaints were true the plaintiff had no case.

City and County Briefs

The following letters remain unclaimed in the postoffice at Santa Ana, California, for the week ending Sept. 6, 1919: Foreign—Juan Arabalo, Rodolfo Campos, Lorenzo Viveros. If not called for within two weeks, the above letters will be sent to the Dead Letter office. When calling for the above, please say "advertised" and give date.

Elmore R. Jeffries of Los Angeles has been elected architect for the new Anaheim grammar school buildings. Construction will start on the Central building by October 15 and it is planned to have the building completed by January 1. The money from the sale of the bonds is now in the school treasury. The Central building will be a modern 11-room structure facing on Chatter street, Anaheim.

The Anaheim Orange and Lemon Association has just put $143,000 into circulation. It is the second Valencia pool.

The Placentia Canning Company started up one day recently to pack a few tomatoes that ripened a little out of season, and has been running, with only a little lost time, ever since. Only about twenty-five hands are employed at present, but, as the fruit is maturing rapidly, a full crew will probably be at work within a week or ten days. Everything is running smoothly, the crop prospects are good, and all indications point to a successful season.

A most unusual thing for Anaheim, a typhoid fever epidemic, which broke out a few days ago, is now under control, believes Dr. J. W. Truxaw, city health officer. There have been ten or a dozen cases reported, most of them para-typhoid or light attacks of the disease. The epidemic is attributed to the use of milk from a dairy supplying the city.

The Mode Millinery, 417 N. Main St., announces to the public that the store will be open until 9:00 o'clock Saturday evenings hereafter. They are showing a big line of the most up-to-date fall styles at lowest prices. You are cordially invited to call and inspect them.

Dragon box chocolates are the best confection and are guaranteed.

This demurrer was sustained. The sugar factory took an appeal, and the appeal has just been decided by the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court instructs the superior court to overrule the demurrer, and gives the defendant leave to answer. Examination of the decision and order will determine whether or not the decision of the Supreme Court is equal to a final determination of the case.

There is now $30,221.26 in the road improvement district's fund. This is held by the county pending the decision of the courts.

'OTHER MAN' HELD IN BIGAMY PLEADS

Upon arrangement with his counsel, Attorney Harry A. McKenzie of San Francisco, John Carter, charged with marrying Mrs. Florence Amelia Musser in this city when he knew her to be already married, appeared in the superior court today without his attorney and entered a plea of not guilty.

Carter's trial was set for September 24 at 10 a. m. Mrs. Musser's application for probation on a charge of bigamy will be heard by Superior Judge Williams on September 15, at 9 a. m. The hearing was continued on September 2.

Carter and Mrs. Musser were arrested in San Francisco, following a marriage ceremony performed for them by City Recorder Heathman in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Musser stated on September 2 before Judge Williams that she intended to marry Carter as soon as she could be divorced from her husband who lives at San Pedro.

In recognition of their faithful and successful service in bringing in the new Standard Oil gusher recently on the Kraemer lease known as well 22, Samuel Kraemer presented each of the fifteen men working on the property with a check for $50. The men met and drew up a resolution of thanks to Mr. Kraemer.

E. B. Trickey was today appointed a deputy by Sheriff C. E. Jackson.

Superior Judge Williams today handed down a decree terminating the joint tenancy of Clara E. Weatherwax, deceased, in a lot at Yorba Linda.

BURGLAR JAILED BY S. A. MAN SENTENCED

In the space of a few minutes in the Superior court today, two informations charging Francisco Torres with burglary were read to him, his plea of guilty to both charges was entered and judgment pronounced.

Torres was sentenced by Superior Judge Williams to San Quentin for a term not exceeding five years on both counts. He is to serve the sentences concurrently.

The first information read to Torres charged him with burglarizing the home of Mrs. Rebecca Pease, 1038 West Bishop, on August 9. The second information charged him with the burglary on August 10 of the home of C. E. Redmond, who lives on the Delhi road.

Torres was arrested by three armed Santa Ana men on August 10, following an exciting chase in the southwest section of the city. The men who made the arrest were E. A. Selvedge, R. E. West and Rex Rogers.

SET AHEAD TRIAL OF MAN ACCUSED BY GIRL

On the request of his counsel, Fred Horwitz of Los Angeles, the preliminary hearing of Calisto Lujon, charged with a criminal offense against Paulina Garcia, 12, of Garden Grove, was set forward in the justice court from September 12 to September 10, at 2 p. m. Lujon was arrested recently at Anaheim by Sheriff Jack-son.

Widow Preferred to Meet Death at Home

"For many years I suffered from stomach trouble. All the doctors I tried helped me but little. All said I would have to go to a hospital and be operated on for gall stones or I would not live much longer. I told them I preferred to meet death at home. One day I picked up an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and since taking a course of it more than a year ago have not had a single pain in my stomach, have good appetite and can eat anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At druggists everywhere.

The Immediate Purchase of Your Autumn Garment Will Effect A Saving of $10 To $20

No Finer Suits Than These

$35.00, $45.00, $59.75, $75.00, $95.00

—With rich luxurious fabrics, fine embroidery and buttons for their trimming.

—Materials which have never been shown before this season are tinseltone, tinseltone twill, peachbloom, velloise and cordovan duvetyne.

Just to come and see our display of new Autumn wear for women is sufficient reward in itself, but to know that you can buy them tomorrow at a special introductory price is indeed good fortune. The saving afforded on every garment is from $10.00 to $20.00. It is one of the finest treats the Smart Shop has given its customers. Dresses, Suits and Coats—the newest Fall creations—are included. We want you to come and see the most comprehensive display in Orange County; indeed, one of the finest in Southern California.

New Autumn Street Frocks

Duvetyne is shown partially, but peachbloom, tinseltone and serge run a close second.

Many are fur trimmed, but in addition there are many smart models introducing wool and silk embroidery and the new stub sleeve is rapidly gaining favor. All moderately priced.

Motor Coats

A comprehensive showing of authentic styles in the newest fabrics will be of interest to those who appreciate styles far in advance of the season.

The soft rich textures—the new and attractive lines shown in the new Motor Coats were never as attractive as this season. Fortuna, Bolivia, Peachbloom, Duvetyne, Frostglow and Silvertone are among the favored materials.

Satin and Serge Dresses for School Girls

$19.50, $22.50, $25.00 and up.

Conservative but not too plain, and in such dark colors as brown, navy and black. Young women and their mothers, both, will like them.

FUR TRIMMED SUITS EXTRAORDINARY, $125 and up to $225.

They are of the same materials as mentioned above, but are a great deal more elaborate.

CLINGING JERSEY PETTICOATS, $6.95

Fashioned to meet the requirements of the new silhouette, these petticoats of jersey in the new fall shades and attractive color combinations are exceptional values at this price.

OUR DEAD IN FRANCE

Although no final action seems yet to have been taken in the matter, the decision probably will be to leave our soldier dead abroad and permanently improve and beautify the American cemeteries in Europe. Practically every one who has given the matter serious consideration believes this to be the right way.

There are sentimental reasons for this action, as well as practical ones. In a cablegram to the war department, General Pershing said:

"The graves of our soldiers constitute, if they are allowed to remain, a perpetual reminder to our allies of the liberty and ideals upon which the greatness of America rests. I recommend that none of our dead be removed from Europe unless their nearest relatives so demand after a full understanding of all the sentimental reasons against such a removal."

"I believe that, could these soldiers speak for themselves, they would wish to be left undisturbed where, with their comrades, they fought the last fight."

General Pershing, himself a soldier, probably knows what he says. The brave boys who died "over there" are held as dearly in the hearts of Americans as they could possibly be if buried here. Their memory is as glorious in either case. The more one thinks about it, the more fitting it appears that they should be allowed to rest where they fought their last fight. Their graves will be a lasting pledge of American idealism, courage and good faith.

MARRING THE TREATY

To ratify the peace treaty with reservations calculated to ease the minds of honest critics and insure the protection of American interests was one thing. To make wholesale changes in the text of the treaty and load it with amendments is quite another thing.

Most Americans were prepared for the former course of action. A large part of the public believed that reservations or interpretations were needed with regard to a few clauses, in order to safeguard the sovereignty and rights of the United States and make sure that this country would not be dragged unnecessarily into foreign conflicts.

Reasonable reservations along this line were not seriously opposed by most friends of the treaty. It seemed evident that a workable compromise might be effected, whereby the admitted merits of the league of nations plan might be retained and a definite start might be made, at last, with an international organization to discourage war and promote peace. There were few supporters of the treaty who still demanded unqualified acceptance.

It seems likely that the president would have accepted a reasonable compromise of this sort, just as the public would have accepted it.

The sudden change of policy of the senate foreign relations committee, however, has altered the whole situation. "Reservations" or "interpretations" setting forth the American understanding of questionable provisions, and indicating how far the United States would consider itself bound by them, would not have interfered with the general establishment of peace. Amendments changing the body of the treaty written at Paris will, authorities say, throw the whole document back upon Paris, necessitating a re-convening of the peace congress. That will mean starting all over again a Herculean task, at which the allied statesmen have already been at work for nearly a year, and starting it under far more unfavorable conditions than those prevailing immediately after the armistice was signed.

These amendments seem calculated to kill the treaty. There is genuine fear widely felt and expressed that killing the treaty would throw the world into chaos. Certainly it would discourage millions of people, in all lands, and add fuel to the discontent and radicalism which are already so menacing. It would stir the dying embers of war, and possibly start new conflagrations. Some of the amendments proposed are of such a nature that they may be taken as flagrant insults by nations associated with us in the war. The general plan seems likely, at best, to alienate our best friends among the powers and bring the name of America into discredit and dishonor throughout the world.

It is inconceivable that the United States senate should acquiesce in this action of its foreign relations committee.

THE PEAK OF PRICES

It seems probable that the peak of high prices has been reached. There have been few increases noted during the present month, and some slight decreases. There is some reason, indeed, for declaring that a definite downward movement has already started.

It might be said that this tendency is artificial, a merely temporary reaction, due to the sudden activity of the government against profiteers. But it cannot be altogether due to governmental action. Even if it were, these public activities are likely to have some lasting effects. Added to them, however, are general economic conditions which are probably more powerful than legislative bodies and law courts.

The harvests are coming in. That generally begins to lower prices somewhat about this time of year. And on the whole, they are big crops, a fact promising continued relief through the winter if those harvests are not mishandled. Moreover, the huge movement of commodities to Europe which has done so much to force up prices in America, and which threatened a continued scarcity, is shrinking considerably.

These are hopeful factors, which will surely operate beneficially if no mischievous action is taken to counteract them.

In most communities there are public improvements which would be to everybody's advantage, but which are delayed indefinitely for all sorts of reasons.

City Planning

Christian Science Monitor

While city and town planning is very much to the fore in Great Britain, the British government has embarked upon city planning, or more accurately city extension, in another part of the world.

When Gen. Allenby's forces took possession of Jerusalem, they found tremendous overcrowding within the walls, and it was evident that immediate extension was necessary. There is already a suburban overflow to meet the exigencies of the occasion, but to preserve the symmetry of the city this has got to be regulated by those not only seeking convenience, but awake to historic traditions. The plan now on view at the Royal Academy may or may not be approved of, but it shows that where Jerusalem is concerned there has been no standing still in the careful consideration of the housing question.

Living Conditions

Christian Science Monitor

Typical of the times, both as an outcome of the immediate past and an indication of the future, is the school that has been carried on, this summer, at Eagles Mere, Pennsylvania, under the direction of the American City Bureau. The school assembled men and women from all over the United States and Canada for debate and instruction on subjects connected with the practical improvement of living conditions. No such school, it is said, was ever before in session; its curriculum included almost every subject which has to do with the adjustment of human beings to the necessities of modern community life.

A Need Today

Pasadena Star-News

The need to practice thrift and economy and good management—to eschew waste and extravagance—is as strong today as it ever was. Wastefulness inevitably brings want. Extravagance breeds disaster, not alone to the extravagant, but to society in general. No class or element of the population can eat their cake and still have it, to use the homely old saying. Those who recklessly live beyond their means must expect to reckon with hardships and privations, ultimately. There never was a time when a thoughtful reading of Franklin's "Poor Richard's Almanac" maxims was more apropos than now.

BIG OIL STRIKE ON ROBINSON RANCH NEAR

Gas and Shale Showing at 96 Feet In Tephathol Company Well

Striking gas at ninety feet and down eleven feet in blue shale, prospects today for the development of a new oil field in Orange county are very bright. The strike is on the W. K. Robinson ranch on the Trabuco mesa, and the operations are by the Tephathol Oil Company of Santa Ana, organized by A. H. Patterson and Ed Tedford of the Union Oil company and Frank Holyland of this city.

Convinced that there is a big oil basin in the Trabuco hills, the men secured a lease on over 500 acres of the Robinson ranch, and started a drilling operation on the seventh of last month. Two of three breakdowns in the equipment has delayed progress.

Yesterday gas was struck in the well, which is down ninety-six feet. There are fifty feet of water in the hole and the gas pressure at the present time is just strong enough to show bubbles on the water.

"The indications are the best in the world," declared A. H. Patterson this morning, "and in my opinion we will open a big gas well within the next fifty feet."

"We did not expect to find such fine indications at the depth we have. Indications are such at this time as to warrant the prediction that we have made a discovery that will add a valuable oil district to the extensive fields of Orange county."

The H. K. and T. O. company, operating on the Irvine ranch, west of Irvine, has taken a lease on the balance of the Robinson ranch of 1200 acres, tying up the property soon after the Tephathol company secured its lease.

Oil seepage on the Robinson ranch has been known for years, but no one seemed to appreciate the indication, until the present operating company got busy and secured its lease.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL OPENS WEDNESDAY

The parochial school at St. Joseph's Catholic Church will begin work on Wednesday, September 10, registration to take place Monday.

The five Sisters to teach in the school arrived from Eureka yesterday. They are St. Joseph Sisters and Sister Mary Felix will be the Superior. The others are Sisters Raymond, Antoinette, Charles and Edward. Four of these also teach music.

A new department this year will be a high school for girls, including a first-class commercial course with up-to-date equipment. Twelve have already signified their intention to attend. The first three years of high school will be included.

Part of the upper floor of the school will be utilized for the high school, a second stairway having been put in. The new seats have been lost somewhere en route but chairs will be used temporarily.

A large attendance is anticipated for the elementary school.

NOT GUILTY PLEA IN SWEET POTATO CASE

Pleading not guilty to a charge of offering for sale a box of sweet potatoes whose outer layer was materially superior to the lower layers, H. B. Cummings of the Independent Produce Company of this city was released from the justice court on his own recognizance after his trial had been set for September 16, at 2 p. m. The complaint against Cummings was sworn to by E. H. Paddock.

RULE FOR CAMP FIRE PERMITS EXTENDED

Forest Supervisors Will Have Power to Name Sections of Special Hazard

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 5.—For the present serious fire emergency in the west, the secretary of agriculture has extended the regulation which requires campers to obtain in advance from forest officers permits to build camp fires in the national forests in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming.

Under this emergency regulation, which will be in effect for the period from September 1 to September 30, 1919, the forest supervisors are authorized to designate, from time to time, as conditions warrant, the localities of special hazard in which special campfire permits will be required. Failure of campers to obtain such permits to build camp fires will make them liable to the penalties of the law for the violation of the regulations governing the administration of the national forests.

The general extension of this regulation, which has been in force on several forests in Southern California, becomes necessary on account of the great fire hazard and the carelessness of campers. During the present season campers in Idaho and Montana have been responsible for about 200 fires from unextinguished camp fires.

Relief Corps Meeting

The regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held in G. A. R. hall yesterday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Harriet Coulter, and Senior Vice-President, Mrs. McKean, appointed Mrs. Beren Walker to fill the president's place.

There were seventeen new members initiated, named as follows: Mmes. J. W. Bromell, Minnie Lindsey, Alice E. Nelson, Martha Halesworth, Emma Benedict, May Curtis, Estelle Harper, Margaret Walkshaw, Emma Walter, Mayme Madden, Harriett Rowell, Mrs. O'Brien, Mina Schlotter, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Jackman, Mrs. Furhman, and Mrs. Sarah Cooper.

The regular monthly tea will be held Friday, Sept. 12th, with Mrs. Beren Walker as chairman. Members are requested to contribute to the luncheon, and assist Mrs. Walker to serve the usual good "eats" for which corps teas are noted. There will be a good program notwithstanding so many of the ladies are absent attending the national G. A. R. convention. Of the total membership of the corps, two hundred and seventy-two—about sixty have gone, but they will scarcely be missed if the other two hundred and more turn out and do their duty. It is expected this will be a "banner" tea.

The ladies of the Social club are planning a fine bazaar for November, and hope all who are interested will keep it in mind and help insure its success. Winter is rapidly approaching.

Entertain for Guests

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mize, of 1106 West Fourth street, entertained recently for Mrs. Mize's aunt and cousin, Mrs. A. C. Bertran and daughter, Miss Clarice, of Needles, who are visiting here.

The home had been decorated with roses and ferns and light refreshments prepared for the guests. Music featured largely in the evening with Miss Clarice Bertran and Mrs. Ernest Barger at the piano, Mr. Barger, violin, and Robert Wallace with the drums.

The friends invited for the evening, and who had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. and Miss Bertran were: Messrs. and Mmes. W. A. West, Carl Galbraith, Ernest Barger, Mike Harris and daughter, Miss Frances, and Robert Wallace.

Afternoon Tea for Sister

Mrs. George Asn extended a charming courtesy to her sister, Mrs. R. D. Lindsey, yesterday afternoon, when she was hostess at an afternoon tea, introducing her to a number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey gave up their home in San Diego this summer, locating here as Mr. Lindsey has gone into business with Mr. Ash.

Cecile Brunner roses with Dusty Miller had been attractively arranged throughout the home and during the afternoon, the guests amused themselves by dressing a doll for a little native of Burmah, whom the Philathea girls are sending to a mission school and at the same time becoming more intimately acquainted with Mrs. Lindsey.

While the ladies were visiting and sewing, they were entertained by Miss Jennie Lasby, who told her experiences in Germany, where she was at the outbreak of the war. Mrs. Albert Hill added much to the afternoon with readings.

The small people who came with their mothers were not forgotten as Miss Charlotte Russer entertained them in the summer house and if possible, they had even a better time than their elders, who sat indoors and weren't allowed to run.

The hostess' mother, Mrs. F. L. Austin, and Mrs. R. D. Lindsey poured out the prettily appointed tea tables.

Guests who had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Lindsey were members of the Philathea class of the First Baptist church and a number of Mrs. Ash's other friends. The invitations included Mmes. Minnie Holmes, McKullup, Walter Serris, L. R. Stearns, Powers, D. G. Cole, Albert Hill, W. Higgs, Victor Langford, Bertrand West, John Sauer, F. L. Austin, J. Russer, Misses Mary Collins, Edith Stanley, Marguerite West, Bessie Woods, Jennie Lasby, Lula and Blanche Minter, Stella Gross and Ada Borden.

Standard Bearers Meet.

The Standard Bearers of the First M. E. church will hold their regular meeting tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Wesley Lamb on North Ross street, at 2:30 o'clock. It is to be a mite-box opening and all the members are asked to take their mite boxes.

Garden-Whist Party

Mrs. J. E. Paul, Mrs. J. E. Gowen and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh were hostesses yesterday afternoon at the first large 'since the war' party given in Santa Ana, and this fact, combined with the gracious hospitality dispensed by the hostesses, made the afternoon a rarely delightful one.

The cool, shaded garden of Mrs. Paul's country home, with the September sunshine filtering through the leaves of the great walnut trees, made a beautiful setting for the party. Baskets of golden glow added their wealth of autumn color to the pretty scene, where progressive whist was played at over a score of tables.

At the conclusion of the games, the guests were invited to the front lawn, where, from the porch, Miss Holly Lash, accompanied by Mrs. Slabaugh, sang a group of songs, her beautiful voice lending itself particularly well to the out-of-doors singing.

Refreshments were served at the card tables in the garden with centerpieces, place cards and nut baskets in the autumn tints of brown and gold.

A basket filled with gorgeous autumn flowers and foliage was presented to Mrs. Meichelbacher of Riverside, who held high score. A basket of asters was the reward of Miss Minnie Childs, of Tustin, whose score was second, while Mrs. Frederick Eley was properly consoled for holding the low score.

Mrs. Paul, Mrs. Gowen and Mrs. Slabaugh were charmingly assisted during the afternoon by Mrs. J. M. Cloves, Miss Alice Wares, Miss Hazel Stockslager, Miss Marie Dennis of Orange, and Misses Mildred Paul and Virginia Slabaugh.

To Buy Silk Now Is to Buy with Foresight

That silks will be a leading fabric is certain; that silks can be bought at present prices is doubtful. Inadequate shipments of raw silk, untranquil conditions of labor and discord in the Chinese and Japanese political life,—all affect the silk trade.

We have bought with foresight. We are able to offer an unexcelled assemblage of pure, lusterful, standard silks at a low price.

Silks occupy the center of the stage in the drama of Fashion. With the new bouffant effects that mark the prevailing silhouette, silk lends itself to graceful draping.

Through the art of the spindles there has been created many novelty weaves which have won much favor in the fashion of today.

LOSES OPENING FIRST PHASE OF ROUND IN CAR CRASH CASE ROW OVER LAND UP TO COURT

Found Guilty By Jury In the Justice Court, Calderwood Appeals

His client having given notice of appeal, following a verdict of guilty, returned by a jury in the justice court, counsel for M. J. Calderwood, defendant in a civil action in addition to the criminal action, in which a traffic law violation was charged, today was preparing to perfect his appeal.

The criminal complaint against Calderwood, charging him with driving his automobile on the left side of the highway when the highway was unobstructed for a distance of 100 yards ahead, was brought by Warren W. Meyers, who lives at the Los Angeles Athletic club.

Defendant in Civil Suit
On August 28 Calderwood was made one of the defendants in an action brought by attorneys Scarborough and Forgy of Santa Ana in behalf of Meyers for $5,769 damages. Both the criminal and civil actions are the outgrowth of an automobile accident occurring on May 22 on North Main street, south of Chapman avenue.

A fine of $50 was levied against Calderwood in the justice court. Payment was suspended pending Calderwood's appeal.

W. D. Wright and R. F. Wright, doing business under the name of the Wright Motor Car company, are the defendants with Calderwood in Meyers' civil action for damages.

Alleges Negligence
In his civil complaint, Meyers al- south on North Main street and that the defendants were driving north on the same street. According to Meyers, the defendants carelessly and negligently caused their automobile to run into Meyers' automobile. It is alleged that the accident was due to the defendants driving on the left side of the highway at a careless and negligent rate of speed.

Meyers was injured in the accident, he alleges. He sets forth in his complaint that in addition to nervous shock he sustained a broken nose, a broken right hand and a sprained wrist.

Meyers alleges that as a result of his injuries he was confined to a hospital for two months, that he was unable to work for three months thereafter and that he was permanently injured in health, body and nervous system.

Attorney B. W. Hahn of Los Angeles appeared for the defense at the trial in the justice court and Deputy District Attorney A. P. Nelson for the prosecution.

Among those testifying at the trial in the justice court were Warren W. Meyers, Peter Carney, C. E. Jackson, H. C. Mohrly, Al Commer, M. J. Calderwood, John Peiser, J. P. Lockwood, John Johnston, W. D. Johnston, Harry I. Stiles, Frank W. Rowland and Mrs. Minnie Calderwood.

Arthur E. Bennett and Milton G. E. Bennett have filed a petition for probating the will of Anna A. Bennett, who died in this city on July 22. The heirs are the petitioners and William K. Bennett.

Attorneys Bishop and Wellington have brought action for divorce on behalf of Maudene Blackburn against George Blackburn.

Recovery of 20 Acres of Property at Katella Is at Issue

Superior Judge Williams in Department 1 today continued for one week the hearing on a demurrer entered by Attorney Dan N. Noland of Los Angeles on behalf of J. G. Delozier, defendant in an action brought in June by Herbert F. Clark to recover twenty acres located near the Katella sub-station, which Clark decided to Delozier pursuant to an alleged agreement where by Delozier was to exchange a 520-acre farm in Missouri.

The twenty acre tract at Katella was decided by Clark to Delozier on April 12, according to the former's complaint. Clark alleges that after April 12 he tried to ascertain the value of the Missouri land but was unable to do so until June 28. Not until the latter date, Clark sets forth in his complaint, did he learn what he declares to be the falsity of certain representations he says were made by Delozier.

Did Not See Property
Clark in his complaint sets forth that because of the expense he was unable to make a trip to Missouri and examine Delozier's property and that he relied entirely upon Delozier's representations and so entered into the alleged agreement of exchange.

The plaintiff asks relief from the liabilities he incurred under the agreement he says was made by the two men. He asks that Delozier re-deed him the twenty acres or that in default of the re-conveyance the court appoint a commissioner to make a deed conveying the property back to him. He also asks that the agreement and deed be rescinded and that he be awarded costs.

The demurrer upon which the court was to act today was filed on Tuesday of this week. It is based on the contention that it cannot be ascertained from the complaint when the alleged representations were made. It was Clark's allegation that timber on the Missouri property was represented by Delozier to be worth $10,000. Delozier in his demurrer declares that it cannot be ascertained from the complaint when the timber was worth $10,000.

Complaint Vague, Claim
Clark's allegation is that the Missouri property was represented to him to be worth $15,000. Delozier comes back with the assertion that it cannot be determined from the complaint when it was that the land was so represented. Clark claims that the timber had been represented to him as not having been cut over; Delozier retorts that it is impossible to ascertain from Clark's complaint at what time the timber had not been cut over.

Delozier's demurrer says that it can not be ascertained how it was represented that the rent from the property in Missouri would be $1000 a year, as Clark contends Delozier had informed him. With reference to certain representations Delozier is alleged to have made regarding the amount of land under cultivation on the Missouri acreage, Delozier says in his demurrer that the complaint is vague on the point of whether there is more or less land under cultivation now than at the time the alleged representations complained of were made.

Time Element Enters
Further, Delozier claims that it cannot be ascertained whether, as Clark alleges, there has been a change in the condition or amount of walnut timber on the Delozier land since the making of the alleged representations.

As to the allegations made by Clark that the Delozier timber is not worth more than $3000, and that the land is not worth more than $5,000, and that certain pine timber had been cut off from the Delozier woods, Delozier's demurrer asserts that it cannot be ascertained from the complaint whose opinion it is that the timber is not worth more than Clark alleges, or whose opinion it is that the land is not worth more than the amount alleged by Clark, or when the pine timber was cut off. Clark alleges that the crops on the Missouri holdings are worthless; Delozier comes back with the assertion that the complaint does not say whose opinion it is that such is the case.

Says No Fraud Claimed
Finally, the demurrer sets forth that it is nowhere alleged in the complaint that the alleged representations were made by Delozier fraudulently, or with intent to deceive Clark; that it is nowhere alleged that Clark was deceived by the alleged representations; and that there is no allegation that Clark sustained damages on account of the alleged representations.

Eden and Koepsel are attorneys for the plaintiff.

SUIT BEGUN IN 1917 TAKEN OFF CALENDAR

The action brought by C. W. Warner against the Delta Land and Water Company and the Long Beach Savings Bank and Trust Company, a case which has been in the local courts since January, 1917, was taken off the calendar today in the Superior court, attorneys not being present when the case was called.

The action centered about alleged misrepresentations of state lands in Millard county, Utah, upon which Warner filed an entry, and about a note for $1900 and certain mortgages which Warner alleges he gave to secure payment for certain stock in the Delta Land Company. Warner asked the cancellation of the note and the mortgages.

COURTHOUSE NOTES

Yesterday the Board of Supervisors set October 28 as the time for an election to be held to determine whether or not the Fullerton Irrigation District will be formed. This district is being formed by those interested in the Bastanchury ranch.

The supervisors yesterday accepted the paving on Walker street. Cypress Supervisor Schumacher voted no. Investigation showed that the work was done under County Inspector Coleman and that the contractor, Steele Finley, had done the work as required of him. It was declared that the character of the sub-base, the soil being liable, was such that a job that was not satisfactory resulted.

Officers Seek Body Reported Seen On Beach by 3 Girls

CALLED to Huntington Beach upon information received from City Marshal Henry Warner of Orange that the body of a dead man had been reported by three girls on the sands, Sheriff C. E. Jackson, Under Sheriff Jack Iman, Constable Jesse Elliott and Coroner C. D. Brown last night made a thorough search of the locality but failed to find any trace of a corpse.

According to Marshal Warner's report, the three girls who had seen what they believed to be a human body half buried in the sand were Eugenia Lee, Lois Meyer and Julietta Hagthorpe, all of Orange.

The girls told Marshal Warner, he stated, that while they were at Newport last Friday with a party of Campfire Girls, of Orange, they took a walk along the shore toward Huntington Beach. The supposed body, they said, was lying at a point about two miles south of the latter city.

The girls did not report the occurrence until yesterday.

Recently Under Sheriff Iman and Deputy District Attorney Nelson were called to Anaheim Landing to investigate the reported discovery of a sack supposed to contain human bones. No trace of the sack was found.

COURT RULING IN TRIANGULAR CAR FIGHT DUE

Repair Bills, Mechanic's Lien, Constable's Sale Figure In the Case

Action was continued for one week in the superior court today on a demurrer entered by Attorneys Head and Rutan in behalf of E. F. Morales, one of the defendants in an action brought by Charles Kerr against Morales, William Lee Bridges and Roy Wilson to recover damages, attorneys' fees and an automobile.

According to allegations made in Kerr's complaint, W. L. Truitt, a Los Angeles automobile dealer, sold to Bridges, in November of last year, a Ford automobile for $425. Of this amount, $100 was paid, it is alleged, with the agreement that the remainder was to be paid in eleven monthly installments.

It was also agreed, Kerr alleges, that Bridges would incur no repair bills on the automobile, in excess of $50, during the existence of the agreement, unless the consent of the seller were first obtained. It was also agreed, according to Kerr, that in case suit was brought to recover the property, Bridges would pay all expenses, and costs incurred and a reasonable per cent of the purchase price of the automobile to the seller for attorney's fees.

On November 21, it is set forth in Kerr's complaint, Truitt assigned the agreement, the automobile and the notes to Kerr. Bridges, according to Kerr's side of the story, failed to perform his part of the pact in that he incurred a bill for repair with Roy Wilson in excess of $50, namely $75.

Kerr states his belief in his complaint that Wilson claimed a mechanic's lien on the automobile for the repairs and caused the machine to be sold by the constable at San Juan Capistrano to satisfy the lien. Kerr claims the constable's sale to have been illegal and void by reason of the fact that Wilson had lost all claim to a lien on the car because he allowed Bridges to take possession after the repairs had been made.

E. F. Morales bought the car at the San Juan sale on May 20 of this year, according to the plaintiff. At the time, Kerr maintains, Morales had notice that Kerr had legal title to the automobile.

Morales now has possession of the car, and is using it and refuses to give it up, though Kerr has demanded it, the plaintiff alleges. Kerr asserts that he is the owner of the car, and that Morales has no right to it.

In order to protect his rights, Kerr sets forth, he has incurred a fee of $75 in consulting his attorney, Victor Hyatt, and that by reason of the acts of Wilson and Morales he has been further damaged in the sum of $150.

Kerr asks judgment against Wilson and Morales for $150 damages; against Bridges for $75 as attorney's fees; against Morales for the recovery of the car or for $425 in case a recovery cannot be had, together with costs of court.

CITRUS FRUITS BRING IN 75 MILLIONS IN LAST YEAR

Shipments of California citrus fruits totaled 45,692 carloads and returned $75,600,000 to California during the year ending August 31, according to the annual report of G. Harold Powell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, which was issued yesterday. The state produced 35,778 carloads of oranges and grapefruit and 9914 carloads of lemons and the crops of lemons and Valencia oranges were each the largest ever shipped from the state. The exchange handled 33,082 carloads or 72.2 per cent of the crop.

An annual yield of California lemons that will exceed the present combined domestic and foreign supply by at least 50 per cent within the next decade, and the rapid growth of the Valencia orange crop due to recent plantings are predicted in the report.

Operating Expenses
The operating expenses of the exchange, in the face of rising costs, were less than they were ten years ago, says Powell. This year the big growers' organization marketed 14,816,737 boxes of oranges, lemons and grapefruit at a cost of 5.2 cents a box, or 1.04 per cent of the delivered value. There was also spent for advertising 2 1/2 cents a box for oranges and 4 cents for lemons, making the combined advertising and selling cost 1.62 per cent of the fruits' delivered value. The operations are conducted at cost and everything above actual expenses is returned to the grower. The cost of marketing oranges and lemons through the exchange is lower than the cost of marketing any other perishable food product in America.

"Although somewhat reduced by the cold weather in January this year's lemon crop was 70.2 per cent larger than that of last year and 22.3 per cent larger than the biggest year on record," according to the report. "This year's shipments of lemons were 17.6 per cent more than the total supply of both foreign and California lemons in 1917-18, and only 3 per cent less than the average supply of foreign and domestic lemons during the last five years."

"During the last sixteen years, the exchange has returned to California $317,000,000 and the losses from bad debts, uncollected bills and in the transmission of funds have been only about $3,000 or about 1-400 of one per cent of the f. o. b. returns."

"The industry must not be misled as to the net value of high prices," says Powell. "The advance in prices on all citrus fruits since the beginning of the war has not kept pace with the rise in prices of commodities in general, particularly those purchased by the producer."

Value of Property
"The value of citrus property in California may be said to depend very largely upon the success with which each crop is marketed. The distribution of the California citrus fruit crop through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange represents the most highly developed system of organized marketing, to be found in American agriculture. After an evolution of twenty-five years the exchange growers, through economic necessity, have developed their own distributing and marketing service which they operate without profit as a true industrial democracy."

"In the last seven years the exchange membership has increased from approximately 6000 to more than 10,000 growers, while the combined number of shippers, associations and district exchanges in the organization has increased from 133 to 216."

In an effort to increase the consumption for California citrus fruits the exchange has become one of the largest advertisers of food products in this country, says the report, which adds that the advertising costs only 1.5 of a cent per dozen.

Exchange shippers operate two subsidiary companies for the manufacture of orange and lemon by-products. The Fruit Growers' Supply Company, which was organized by exchange shippers to purchase orchard and packing house materials, transacted a business of $6,200,000 and after paying 6 per cent interest on capital invested and setting aside a small reserve, refunded $525,000 to its members, in addition to the saving made at time of purchases. The company recently acquired, in addition to its timber tract at Hilt, Cal., 41,414 acres of forest in Lassen county, in order to guarantee its members an adequate supply of box shooks for fifty years or more.

Employers Will Give Day Off To Service Men That They May Attend Outing

WITH oil companies and other concerns of Orange county co-operating with the Orange County War Service Recognition association to the extent of giving service men leave of absence for next Tuesday, the day of the welcome by the county people to the county heroes, every former army man who wants to be at the park on that day will be there. It is the belief of service men of this city that fully 98 per cent of the former wearers of the khaki will be on hand to receive the handsome medals to be presented by the county through Gov. Stephens.

Men are not required to appear in uniform—they may use their own sweet pleasure in that matter. The Santa Ana chapter of the Orange County Service men last night voted to wear civilian clothes, so that there may be no distinction between those who held rank and the men in the ranks.

Upon arrival at the park, the men will report to the booth of the service men, where a complete record of enlisted men of the county will be on hand. Each one registering will be given a tag, which will indicate the wearer is entitled to a medal, and which will be taken up when the souvenir is presented.

Auto parking grounds have been laid out, with white lines indicating sections in which cars may be parked. There will be plenty of room for all machines. None will be allowed inside of the park, except such machines as may have to go in to convey equipment needed for the day.

Arch Being Built
The temporary welcome arch today is in course of construction. It is located some distance from the main entrance to the park and will bear the inscription, "Sons and Daughters"

SANTA ANAS TO DRILL FOR OIL IN WYOMING'S NEW FIELD

With two 80-acre tracts purchased in a new oil field in Carbon county, Wyoming and, it is claimed, with bright prospects for striking something good, a corporation composed almost entirely of Santa Ana men is preparing to raise enough money to put down a well on the property within a very few months.

The property is in the Lost Soldier oil field, within a few miles of producing wells, and an investigating committee which inspected the property came back enthused over the project. The company is to be incorporated as the "Wyana Oil Company."

High School Registration This Year Will Break All Former School Records

WITH 104 seniors registered yesterday for Santa Ana High School work this year, members of the new junior class registering today, sophomores to register tomorrow and freshmen on Monday, Principal D. K. Hammond of the high school is certain that this year's registration at the high school will break all records.

There is a turn toward mechanical and scientific studies, with the result that the mechanical drawing classes are already filled to capacity.

All of the Santa Ana schools are to open Wednesday, Sept. 10.

"There will be a registration in returned from war service. Some of them have been in service nearly two years, and they are now returning to complete their high school courses. We have one student who has been overseas. He is 22 years old, and is taking a high school course preparatory to taking a medical course."

Register All Day
It is expected that there will be a rush of registrations for sophomores and freshmen, and in order to accommodate all, registrations will be received tomorrow and Monday from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., including the noon

SERVICE MEN OF S. A. MEET AND SEE MOVIES

Local Chapter Votes to Attend Park Celebration In "Civvies"

Approximately sixty members of the Santa Ana Chapter of the Orange County Service Men's association are today carrying memories of an enjoyable evening at the armory and at the West End theater upon the occasion of the organization's regular monthly meeting.

Following the meeting at the armory the men availed themselves of a courteous invitation from L. A. Schlesinger, manager of the West End, to come to his theater in a body. Schlesinger told the service men that the doors of his theater would be open to them for the second show on any meeting night of the organization. Many expressions of appreciation were given Schlesinger by the service men.

At last night's meeting it was voted that members of the Santa Ana chapter would attend the big welcome home celebration at Orange County park Tuesday in civilian clothes. It was the opinion of the majority of those present that in view of the men's return to civil life, it would be better that all ranks meet on an equal basis.

One of the features of last night's meeting was the distribution of service buttons to a number of men. The distribution was made by Chas. D. Swannoz, and those receiving buttons were men who had previously submitted their discharges to him so that he could obtain the necessary number of buttons in Los Angeles.

Stories and reminiscences of life in the service were exchanged by many of the members last night. It was a jolly crowd that was gathered at the armory, and many a laugh was enjoyed over the "smokes."

The next meeting will be held on the evening of the first Thursday in October.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL BREAK ALL RECORDS

hour. Junior College registrations are to be made on Monday.

Santa Ana schools, from the kindergarten to the Junior College, both inclusive, are to be open for the fall term on Wednesday morning.

The high school classes this year will convene ten minutes earlier than last year. Classes will start at 8:20 a. m., and most of the classes will close at 3 p. m. Classes that will be in session later than 3 p. m. will be some of the laboratory classes, which will close at 3:45 p. m.

Every male student of the high school and Junior College will be required to take a course in military training. High school athletics will open the season Wednesday afternoon. The ground has been graded and wet down and football suits are in shape for wear.

The Night School
A night school for foreigners is to be conducted here in conformity with the new state law. This school will be conducted one of the Mexican nights have not yet been designated. This school is for boys and girls under 21 years of age who cannot read and write English with the proficiency of a sixth grade student.

The state law this year requires children of 16 and under to go to day school. If a child over 16 cannot read and write English up to requirements, he or she must attend the night school until the required proficiency is attained. If that proficiency is attained when the student is 18, attendance will no longer be required. Otherwise attendance up to the age of 21 will be required.

Whether or not the night school for the general public will be opened this year has not been determined. Owing to the fact that the courses last winter were interrupted by the influenza epidemic, it has been decided that advanced courses in night school work will not be given. If there is a demand for the opening courses again this winter, the school board will provide rooms for the courses, and students may make arrangements with teachers for the courses.

Elementary Schools
Registration day for intermediate pupils and students of the commercial department of the intermediate will be on Wednesday, September 10th, the opening day of school. The following subjects will be offered in the commercial course of that school, rapid calculation, bookkeeping, shorthand, penmanship, typing and commercial English.

There will be a general teachers' meeting of the kindergarten, elementary and intermediate teachers on Monday at 10 a. m. in the music room of the high school and a meeting of the principals at 9 o'clock on Monday in the office of the superintendent.

The elementary schools of the city will have their opening and closing hours the same as last year. Each school day will open at 8:40 a. m.

Exchange Manager Reviews Orange, Lemon Situation In Annual Report

bumper Valencia crop of the industry," says the report. "The total shipments from California for the crop year will probably reach 8,500,000 boxes, of which the exchange will ship approximately 6,275,000 boxes. Ten years ago, the exchange shipped 791,788 boxes of this variety; five years ago, 3,654,811 boxes; and in 1917, the last normal year, 4,771,568 boxes.

"The Valencia problem of the future is one of wider distribution, an increase in the per capita consumption and the regulation of the early shipments to prevent the marketing of immature Valencias which are unfit for consumption and demoralize the later Valencia market and the last of the navel market as well.

"Although the lemon crop was somewhat reduced by the January frost, the total shipments of California lemons have been 3914 cars. This is an increase of 76.2 per cent over last year and 22.3 per cent over the largest preceding year. The shipments of California lemons have been 17.6 per cent more than the total supply of foreign and California lemons in 1917-18, and only 3 per cent less than the average supply of foreign and domestic lemons during the last five years.

The Lemon Problem

"California is facing a real lemon problem. Our own production in less than a decade may be expected to exceed the present combined domestic and foreign supply by at least 50 per cent, and imports will continue to arrive in large quantity. The lemon crop cannot be marketed except by increasing their per capita consumption of lemons. During the last fifteen years, the annual per capita supply has remained practically stationary at 13 1/2 lemons per person. As the California crop has increased, the proportion of imported lemons has decreased, the total supply of both just keeping pace with the annual increase of 2 per cent in the population of the country.

"There is reason to believe that by the development of new markets, by increasing the use of lemonade, and by developing household uses generally, the exchange will be able to increase the per capita consumption of lemons. In the fall of 1918, when the domestic supply was very heavy, the exchange increased its sales efforts, and the total sales of foreign and California lemons combined increased 80 per cent in October and November over the same months in 1917; 30 per cent over 1916; and 23 per cent over 1915. The foreign fruit amounted to only 57 carloads in these two months. The result of an almost exclusive, uniformly distributed California supply was an even, moderate price to the consumer; a lowering of the margins by the wholesaler and retailer; and the placing of lemon sales by the trade on a regular merchandising, rather than a fluctuating, speculative basis.

"With the uneven, highly speculative imports as a source of domestic supply, the lemon merchandising business has always been erratic, as the orange business was when the American consumer depended on imported fruit as the principal source of supply. The secret of wide distribution is a uniform supply at reasonable prices to the trade. Then the wholesale and retail dealers can adopt relatively low margins, which result in quicker turnovers, a larger volume of business, a cheaper fruit to the consumer, and a greater annual profit to the trade.

"In view of the rapid advance in the cost of production, an upward revision of the tariff is one of the fundamental changes needed to stabilize the domestic lemon industry by restricting the large quantities of low grade, but ultimately high-priced consumer fruit, which, as during the summer months of 1919, are dumped on the American market."

According to Wester, Luehm and Young of La Habra, applications for stock in the Richfield-Yorba Oil Company have been coming in so rapidly that there are now only 20,000 shares left of an allotment of 250,000 shares. R. J. Scott of Anaheim, who is president of the company that is being organized, has contracted with drillers who have been at work on the Heffern well to drill a well for this new concern, and it is expected that the derrick will be up in a few days. The well is to be drilled on property at Richfield.

FIRMS OFFER HARBOR WORK PROPOSALS

Commission Is Much Pleased With Low Figures That Are Submitted

and materials, it looks like the Newport Harbor improvements projected under the $500,000 county harbor bond issue can be carried through at, or very close to, the harbor engineer's estimates made two years ago. The figures are in and a superficial examination indicates the work can be carried out as planned.

Seven firms have filed bids with the Orange County Harbor Commission for all or a part of the improvement work, the bids being opened at a meeting held in the First National Bank at Newport Beach, with representatives present from all but one of the competing firms. Great interest was taken in the proceedings as all feel a real harbor project is under way at Newport.

The firms which filed bids were the Ross Construction Company of Los Angeles, W. N. Ledbetter Company of Los Angeles, S. F. Bridge Company of San Francisco, Union Iron Works of Los Angeles, L. A. Dredging Company of Long Beach, United Dredging and Construction Company of Los Angeles. The bid of the S. F. Bridge Company was obviously too high, and was returned, along with the certified check which accompanied the bid. The bid of the Union Iron Works at $685 for construction of the county warehouse was not accompanied by a certified check, and therefore could not be considered. The estimated cost of the warehouse was $5000.

Low Bid for Dredging

The L. A. Dredging Company appears to be the low bidder on the dredging with a figure of 12.47 cents per cubic yard, in both the entrance and the inside channels. Under this figure, it is believed the dredging planned can be done at several thousand dollars less than the estimated cost of $376,000. The dredging estimate was 25 cents a cubic yard in the entrance channel and 10 cents in channels inside the bay.

So far as the harbor commissioners could tell from the bids, the cost of the rock for jetties will not be prohibitive, and they are well pleased with progress to date, feeling that the first Orange county harbor unit can be completed as promised.

Engineers Check Bids

On account of the complicated nature of the bids, they were referred to the harbor engineers, Leeds and Barnard, for checking, and the engineers' report will be submitted to the harbor commission at a meeting next Wednesday. If this report is satisfactory and the harbor bond money is placed in the county treasury before that time, the commission expects to let the initial contract for the improvement, as they want to get the construction under way at the earliest possible moment. Should there be delay in payment of the bond money, however, or if further investigation of the bids is found advisable, the letting of the contract will be postponed until a later date.

Actual construction work will be started, it is expected, within thirty days of the time the contract is let. The first work will be on the river diversion, and the dredging will not be done for several months, until the river is taken care of so that no more silt can be dumped onto the bay. The commissioners hope to have the new river channel open by the time the winter rains set in.

Less Dredging Than Estimated

Orange county, it is indicated, will save several thousand dollars of the harbor cost through dredging which has already been done by the city of Newport Beach and by nature. Since the estimates were made, Newport Beach has dredged a channel ten feet deep to the harbor mouth and tidal action has continued that work which Newport began, so that up to the present time Lin L. Shaw, chairman of the harbor commission, estimates that at least 500,000 cubic yards of silt have been removed from the channel and carried out to sea. The county had figured on removing this silt, but now it is already out of the way, and the county is just that much to the good.

The commission is also carrying forward its plans for selling the dredged material to build up adjacent property, and it has good reason to believe that all the material will be sold at a price which will return a considerable amount to the commission, to be put back into the harbor work.

The bonds are printed and ready for delivery to the buyers, McConnell and Company of San Francisco. Just as soon as the bond money is in hand and a complete report is received on the bids submitted, the commission will be ready to give the word "GO," and the long hoped-for Orange county harbor will be on its way.

BIG REUNION OF WESTMINSTER PIONEERS

More Than 130 Assemble at Anaheim Landing For Third Affair

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 5.—The Westminster pioneers and present residents held their third annual reunion on Labor Day in the pavilion at Anaheim Landing. It was estimated there were about one hundred and thirty present, representing Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Orange counties. Bountiful basket lunches were spread on the tables in the upstairs pavilion and hot coffee was served. After full justice had been done to the loaded tables, the company was called to order and a number of after dinner talks were enjoyed. The president, Mrs. Neeta Marquis, of Los Angeles, presented to the organization a unique gavel in the form of a short paddle, giving its interesting history.

During the early days, a wagon, called a thoroughbrace, was used to convey prospective buyers over the colony lands. After its best days had passed, the vehicle was used as a farm wagon. When worn out like the "one-horse shay," Rev. John Marquis, father-in-law of the speaker, made several paddles out of the spokes, presenting one to each of his children, one of which was presented to the company.

The interesting minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. J. F. Patterson. Mr. W. H. Marquis, of Monrovia, son of Rev. John Marquis, then read the following appropriate poem which was much appreciated, a number expressing the desire to have a copy:

OLD FRIENDS LIKE YOU

(J. W. Foley)

The old friends, old home friends, the friends who are golden With all of life's goodness, I think of you all.

The true friends, true-blue friends of days that are olden, In dreaming and seeming you come at my call.

With boy-hearts and joy-hearts and hearts kind and tender, So a message of love that is simple and true.

For the best things in life with its glory and splendor Are the old friends, the home friends, the real friends like you.

The far friends who are friends, in little home places, Who though they be far yet in spirit are near;

The day-dreams that come of the old, smiling faces! What else can life hold that is quite half so dear?

The true friends like you friends, in all sorts of weather, The best folks, the best folks in all the world through.

Here's a message of friendship to you, all together, To the old friends, old home friends, the real friends like you.

We wander and ponder through life with its duties, We grope on and hope on and strive through it all;

We hurry and worry and miss half the beauties That might hold for us, we rise and we fall.

We day-dream the gay-dream with light word and laughter, We rollick and frolic the idle hours through.

But the best thoughts, the best thoughts, the best thoughts come after Of the old friends, the gold friends, the real friends like you.

We chase on and race on through joy and through trouble, Find sweet things are fleet things, nor long to endure;

We find life a sunbeam that shines through a bubble, And joys to be fleeting we thought were secure.

So what of the light song, the bright song and laughter, The play-day, the gay-day, when play-time is through

There's a longing for something that's real that comes after, For the old friends, old home friends, the real friends like you.

So I sing you and bring you in spirit together, In dreaming and seeming you come at my call.

The old friends, the gold friends, in all sorts of weather, You're the true friends, true-blue friends, aye, one friend and all.

For today-friends are gay friends, with light hearts and laughter, But the love in my heart that is tender and true

Goes out to you all in the dreams that come after, To the best friends, the best friends, the real friends like you.

Greetings From Strong Archibald M. Strong of Pasadena, elder son of Robert Strong, successor to Rev. Lemuel P. Weber, superintendent of the colony, brought greetings from his father who was too feeble to be present.

John J. McCoy of Beaumont, Sampson Edwards of Los Angeles, W. B. McCoy of this place, Mrs. Birdie Ball of Downey and G. W. Mack of Los Angeles expressed appreciation and enjoyment of the gathering.

Peter Mohn, who planned and supervised the building of the Westminster Farmers' Creamery and was butter maker about twenty-five years ago, was much pleased to meet with many he had not seen since that time. He has been living in Arizona most of the time since leaving here and although that country is developing very rapidly, ly, the intense heat is its great disadvantage. Having traveled over a large part of Europe and the United States, he expressed it as his firm conviction that Southern California is the best place on earth in which to make a home and that is what he is preparing to do when a location is decided upon. Dr. H. W. Head, who was connected with the early settlement of this side of the Santa Ana river and who came in 1874, gave an interesting talk of the early days.

Mrs. Jones Talks

The last speaker was Mrs. R. W. Jones of El Monte, a former resident. She began by saying that if the limit was a three-minute talk, she might not be able to stop at the end of that time. She was listened to with attention and closed by saying that it was her belief that a large share of the thrift and splendid conditions of Orange county, were in a measure due to the righteous principles and sterling qualities of the founders of Westminster colony.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Neeta Marquis, Los Angeles; secretary, Mrs. Birdie Ball, Downey; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Tilton, Los Angeles; first vice-president, O. B. Byram, Westminster; second vice-president, Mrs. Bessie Boring, Los Angeles; third vice-president, Mrs. Clara Jones, El Modena; coffee committee, Mrs. Mary Tilton, chairman; flower committee, Mrs. Bessie Larter, Westminster.

W. H. Marquis invited the company to form a group downstairs, where he took a photograph of some of the earlier pioneers.

The following list of those present includes the non-residents of the early settlers, and is as nearly complete as could be obtained: J. Y. Anderson, Mrs. Neeta Marquis, Mrs. Anna Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wood, son and daughter, Mrs. Stough, Mrs. Jennie Stough, Porter, Mrs. Jennie Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Mack, Mr. and Mrs. David Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strong, Archibald M. Strong, Mrs. Bessie Boring, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ball, Dr. H. W. Head, Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards and son Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mohn and child, Mrs. Mary Tilton, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Marquis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Copeland, Anson Burlingame, Mrs. R. W. Jones, Sampson Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards and sons, Earl and William, Jr.; Mrs. Maria Harris, Miss Lottie Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. Abel Solomon and son, Stanley Solomon; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Solomon and children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClintock, Mrs. Susie McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClintock, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Hawks and three children, Mrs. Bonham, Mrs. T. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Rogers, Mrs. E. A. Ladd, Mrs. Hosking, Mrs. R. H. Beach and daughter, Lola May; Mr. and Mrs. George Gothard and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Alford, Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. H. Larter, Sim Tucker, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. S. McPherson.

TUSTIN NEWS

A community service in memory of N. G. Waterhouse will be held next Sunday morning in the Tustin school auditorium at 11 o'clock. The members of the Chamber of Commerce and Knights of Pythias lodge and all of his friends in Tustin will join in this service.

There will be no services in either of the Tustin churches at 11 o'clock next Sunday. Sunday school will be held as usual at 9:45.

A business and social meeting of the Tustin Presbyterian Bazaar Bible class was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Smith. A short business meeting was led by the vice president, Mrs. C. W. Pollard. A joint meeting of this class and the Presbyterian Brotherhood class was arranged to be held on the last Wednesday evening in this month, at the prayer meeting hour. A review of this month's lessons will be taken up. Mrs. A. D. Turner was appointed assistant secretary to act in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Satterwhite. Mrs. Turner gave a review of the first Sunday school lesson of last month on Christian Worship. Mrs. Keiser the second lesson on Willing Souls, by means of an interesting map showing Paul's missionary journeys; Mrs. Dyer, the lesson on Mission and Mrs. Hollis Lindsey, the lesson on Social Responsibility. A social time was enjoyed and the hostess served watermelon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Artz and family returned home from a month's vacation at Balboa Beach on Monday. On Thursday afternoon Little Miss Louise Artz had a tenth birthday and the family returned to Balboa to celebrate with friends there. Mrs. Margaret Hutchins and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hentshell of Los Angeles were of the party. A lovely pink and white cake with ten candles went to the beach with them.

The meeting of the Coreopsis Club this month will be held at the home of Mrs. Forrest Collar. J. E. Calvin of Alhambra, who has purchased the Charles Bowman place, moved into the home today. Rev. W. S. McDougall and family are spending a two-weeks' vacation at Long Beach.

Peter Lindgren of Kearney, Neb., has come to make his home in Tustin with his daughter, Mrs. R. W. Gillespie and family. Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie are having added to their home a handsome sun-parlor, glass enclosed and beautifully finished.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Turner spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday in Los Angeles and Pasadena, visiting Mrs. O. W. Greag and Miss Kate Schultz. Miss Ada Squires spent last week in Los Angeles visiting friends.

Orange packing, which had been suspended on account of the railroad strike, has been resumed. There are about 200 cars of oranges to be shipped in the near future.

NEWPORT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 5.—The board of trustees on Tuesday evening passed a resolution granting the firemen of Newport Beach $1 for each fire drill held, with a limit of two each month. The former pay for fire practices was 50 cents.

The first smelt seining was started Tuesday morning, the big 1000-foot net of R. J. Stauss being the first to make a haul, but the silvery smelt were very conspicuous by their absence. The fisher boys say that it is early yet for these visitors to put in an appearance in any large schools.

Mr. and Mrs. James Akins, who have been occupying their cottage on 27th street since their return from Oregon, have moved to Santa Ana for the fall and winter months. Mrs. Cora Goddell of Portland, Oregon, who returned with them, will spend the winter here in Orange county.

Miss Eva York of Santa Ana spent a few days the first of the week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Akins.

Mrs. Floyd E. Gage and two children, Harold and Edith, are spending several days in Glendora visiting with her uncle, Lloyd Gage and family.

Edith and Harold Gage, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gage, of East Newport, celebrated their sixth and seventh birthdays, respectively, on Saturday, August 29. Their birthdays are only four days apart, so they were both celebrated at the same time. The little guests who helped commemorate the occasion were Hazel Meurs, Virginia Rugg, Mae, Beula and Hazel Stine, Carl Hansen and several others. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess, Mrs. Gage.

Howard Bateman, formerly of Balboa, but now located at Phoenix, Ariz., is spending a month at Balboa with his mother, Mrs. H. S. Bateman.

C. F. Guthridge, of the North American Dredging Company, was down from Los Angeles Wednesday and submitted bids on the contemplated harbor work which will be done by the county.

Mrs. Helen Smith was the guest of Mrs. M. Fitzgerald on Thursday, the occasion being the celebration of her birthday by serving a chicken dinner.

Frank Williams, one of the city teamsters, is enjoying a vacation from his work. During his absence his place is being filled by George W. Smith.

At the meeting of the Fire Department Wednesday evening, Victor Longmore was taken into the department as an active member.

The Newport Beach grammar school will open on Monday, September 15. W. H. Jones, principal of the Huntington Beach high school, was in Newport Beach Wednesday looking up the grammar school graduates who will attend high school. Huntington Beach

HUNDREDS WANT TO COME HERE, BUT CAN'T

Residents of British Isles Cannot Secure Transportation to America

ANAHEIM, Sept. 5.—Sam Kevan, wife and three small children, of Wilbrook, were guests here recently of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jackson. The Kevans landed in California a few weeks ago from Glasgow, Scotland. Kevan was here sixteen months ago and liked it so well that he went back to get his family.

He was unable to purchase passage across the Atlantic and sailed June 12, 1918, on the Tuscania, working his passage. That was the trip the Tuscania was torpedoed, but it was no new experience for Kevan, who had been torpedoed once before. From the time he landed in Scotland, fifteen months ago, until he finally was able to arrange it, Kevan tried to get passage this way for himself and family. It took a year.

Kevan says there are hundreds of people trying to get across to America, anxious to leave the unsettled conditions and high prices of that country, but they are all experiencing difficulty in getting U. S. consuls to sign passports. He says George Jackson's brother and family have been trying for seven months to get started for Anaheim, having sold their home. Prices are proportionately much higher in the British Isles than in America, says Kevan, while there isn't nearly so much work to be had on account of the shortage of raw materials.

high opens on Monday, September 15. Registration days, September 11 and 12.

Mrs. Helen Smith went to Los Angeles Monday, where she was the guest of Mrs. Chris Porter. While in the city she witnessed the Labor Day parade.

THE GENERATOR STEIN STILL IS BIGGER AND BETTER STRONG ON THE BIG EATS

High School Publication Enlarged; Meets Favor of Businessmen

"The Generator," official publication of the Santa Ana High School student body, will be bigger and better this year than ever before, according to plans of the management. Physically, the publication is to be enlarged from a 4-column, 13-inch paper to a 5-column paper with 17-inch columns. In addition, it will be better prepared, it is planned, and will be livened up with numerous cuts and illustrations which have been arranged for at considerable expense. "Old High Cost" has hit the high school paper, as it has all others, with the result a slight raise in subscription cost. Instead of 50 cents a year, the subscription price will be 60 cents, or 35 cents a semester, instead of 30 cents. The by-mail price remains $1.00 a year.

Lynn Crawford is advertising manager of the publication and has been interviewing local business men, with the result that the paper continues to receive encouraging support, and it is felt the publication will be more successful this year than ever before.

The Generator staff this year is as follows:

Editor-in-chief—Virgil Hancock; assistant editor—Mirrie Wilson.

Associate editors: Society—Mary Hendrie, Berthene Selway; literary—Dorothy Duggan, Marie McNaught; sports—Clarence Brown, Ray Simpson.

Business manager—Ralph Harmon; assistant—Donald Caul.

Advertising manager—Lynn Crawford; assistant—Theodore Gilbank.

Faculty advisor—Miss E. E. Johnston.

Refreshments a Continuous Cry With Him on Recent Joy Trip

A very happy and jolly party was the one that left Santa Ana one morning this week for San Diego, including Sam Stein and family, Ivy Stein, Mrs. Singer, mother of Mrs. Stein; Sam Hurwitz and family, the Misses Unnie and Rose Nasater, sisters of Mrs. Hurwitz; M. Karp and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lippman. The first stop was made at Capistrano, for breakfast. The next important stop was made at the top of the Torrey Pines, where several pictures were taken. Again a stop was made at La Jolla and the caves explored by the entire party, and several pictures taken of the caves as well as the party. Sam Stein, came up the steps from the caves on low, and puffing like a Ford going up a high grade. The next thing which was in everybody's mind, but openly expressed by Sam Stein only, was eats, and the party flopped down to San Diego in Indian fashion and with a war cry took possession of the Savoy, massacring several chickens and what goes with them. After hearing from Sam that he had enough, quarters were taken at the San Diego hotel. A trip was taken to Coronado Beach, spending there the remainder of the day. The next day the party took in the fair grounds, Fort Rosecrans and Ramona's Home, where everybody made a wish at the well, to be back in Santa Ana. With a stop at La Jolla for some eats, suggested by Sam, and another one of his suggestions at Capistrano, the party reached home at 11 p. m.

Before retiring one more stop was made at Stein's home, where two large watermelons that he picked up on the road (when no one was looking) were sliced up and disposed of.

Voted by the entire party to have been a splendid and jolly affair, plans already are in the making for the next one.

REPORTS DEATH C. R. TRICKEY AT MESA

The Mesa (Arizona) Daily Tribune of Monday, September 1, contains the following notice of the death of Clarence R. Trickey, formerly of this city:

C. R. Trickey passed away yesterday afternoon at his residence on South Macdonald street, after a long illness beginning with an attack of influenza last winter. He has been in Mesa for many years, coming from California, and was proprietor of the furniture store next to his home. He is survived by a wife and two daughters.

Mrs. Trickey, who with her two daughters, was in California at the time of Mr. Trickey's last serious illness, was unable to reach home in time to be at the bedside at the last moment. She tried to return several days ago, but was forced to start on the trip home in the automobile driven by Fred Weekes, of Mesa, who reached here late last evening, several hours after the death.

Mr. Trickey is survived by his widow, Lunette, two daughters, Helen, aged 14, and Margaret, aged 12; a father and mother, residents of Balboa, Cal., and five brothers and one sister. Four of the brothers and the sister are residents of Santa Ana, Cal., where Mrs. Trickey had been visiting. The daughters remain on the coast. One brother, Frank S. Trickey, is a resident of Mesa. He will take charge of the funeral and will handle the closing of Mr. Trickey's business affairs here.

Mr. Trickey at the time of his death had been a resident of Mesa for eight years. Most of this time he had been in business in the city, but for a time he lived with his family on a homestead near this city, where he first settled when he arrived in the county. He was 42 years old, and was born in Mulvane, Kan.

The funeral will be held from the parlors of M. L. Gibbons at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. His relatives on the coast will be unable to attend. Burial will be in the Mesa cemetery.

For Rent—4-room modern cottage also apartment furnished. 120 So. Sycamore.

LUDENDORFF'S CONFESSION

GERMANY WAS "YELLOW"

Secret History at Last! Germany's Black Curtain Lifted!

THIS IS THE MAN!

Throughout the war the world was kept in dense ignorance of the situation in the German empire. Even now a veil of dark mystery hangs over the whole conduct of the war from the Berlin side.

This Veil Will Be Torn Aside in the Columns of The Examiner

For the first time since that dread August day when Germany began her assault on a peaceful world, The Examiner and the leading newspapers of New York, London and Paris will present the whole, secret, inside story of how Germany, believing herself headed for victory, was doomed to failure; how behind the seeming triumphs there was hesitation, doubt and blundering downfall.

It Is History—Lord Northcliffe Says Everybody in the British Empire Should Read This Confession EVERY AMERICAN SHOULD READ IT, TOO!

Years from now the historical text books will be printing the amazing disclosures and exposures you will soon be able to read in the columns of The Examiner—AND NOWHERE ELSE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Ludendorff was the great menacing figure of Teutonic arms. It was he who directed the campaigns, it was his voice which in the latter days rose even higher than the Kaiser's. During the war he was execrated as the chief exponent of Hun brutality. When the crash came he had to flee Germany. He now lays claim to the mantle of statesmanship!

His story will be complete, the history of every battle, the hidden German stories of every campaign. It deals, not with disjointed events, but lays bare the whole German side of the war—THE FIRST LIGHT SHED ON THE DEBACLE OF AN EMPIRE.

It Is, Without Exception, the Most Momentous Feature Printed in Any Newspaper Since the War Began

Shortly after the signing of the Armistice, Ludendorff, breaking with Hindenburg and the Kaiser, hurried to Sweden, taking with him a tremendous mass of records and a large staff of assistants. From these records and his own knowledge and experience, he, PERSONALLY, has produced this amazing document—one for which the whole world is waiting.

THE LARGEST CASH ADVANCE EVER MADE IN THE HISTORY OF THE PUBLISHING BUSINESS WAS PAID FOR THIS MANUSCRIPT. Some of the greatest expert judges of book and newspaper material were sent by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate—Sir George Hutchison and Lord Northcliffe, the great English publishers—to Stockholm to read the manuscript. They unanimously reported that it was THE GREAT STORY OF THE GERMAN SIDE OF THE WAR.

IN PARIS THE STORY WILL APPEAR IN THE GREAT DAILY "LE TEMPS," IN LONDON IT WILL APPEAR IN THE NORTHCLIFFE PUBLICATIONS. IN AMERICA IT WILL APPEAR IN LEADING NEWSPAPERS IN THE LARGEST CITIES, INCLUDING NEW YORK WORLD, BOSTON POST, CHICAGO NEWS, TORONTO STAR, PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER.

AERO ENGINEER IS DISCHARGED FROM ARMY

Capt. H. H. Blee Held Important Posts In United States Air Service

Captain H. H. Blee, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Blee of 311 Orange avenue, has just arrived home from Rockwell Field, San Diego, where he reported from Washington, D. C., for discharge last Tuesday.

Captain Blee was called to Washington in October of 1917 to take his final examinations for commission in the air service. He was at once assigned to duty in the Airplane Engineering Division as assistant to the commanding officer of McCook Field, Dayton, O., the Air Service Design and Experimental Station. The following February he was appointed chief of one of the technical departments of the division and representative of the division at the full flight performance tests of military airplanes. In connection with this assignment he worked at times as flying observer on speed and altitude tests at altitudes ranging from 15,000 to 21,000 feet.

Captain Blee completed his work at McCook Field the latter part of March, 1919, and was at once ordered to duty at the office of the director of air service, Washington, D. C., where he was put in charge of the preparation of the official history of the engineering activities of the Bureau of Aircraft Production.

Prior to entering the service Captain Blee was engaged in engineering work for the California State Department of Engineering, from which he was granted leave of absence for the period of the war.

COAST ROUTE TO BE DISCUSSED BY A. C.

Important matters requiring attention of the Associated Chambers of Commerce and the July and August meetings having been passed over, a special meeting of the county organization has been called for Wednesday evening of next week at the city hall, Santa Ana, at 7:30 o'clock.

The route of the coast boulevard along the Orange county coast will be one of the matters of special importance. The chamber will attempt to settle this question and then get back of a movement to get the project through as quickly as possible.

While it is known in a general way the boulevard will follow the coast, there has been no definite line mapped out for passing through Newport Beach. The situation there is such as to require some attention. It was tentatively planned to have the road turn from Newport and follow the bluffs around the bay, thence on to Laguna Beach.

There is some discussion now of utilizing the county highway from Newport to the road to Palisades tavern and improve that to the point where the road again will turn toward Laguna, and follow the present road along the coast.

Elmer Jahraus of Laguna Beach, who was appointed a committee at the meeting at Palisades tavern in June to make a recommendation as to the best way of preserving a full view of the ocean from the boulevard, will make a report. He was authorized to enlarge the committee by appointments of his own.

The object is to prevent building between the boulevard and the ocean front, to the exclusion of the view of tourists passing along the road. Jahraus suggested at the June meeting that blocks should be left in subdivisions of property along the front so that one of the attractive features of the drive would not be marred.

The telephone situation, as it pertains to the hearing to be held by the railroad commission at San Francisco on Sept. 15, for an adjustment of rates, is another important matter that will come up for consideration. The fight is to be continued for preservation of the free toll zones in Orange county and it is necessary that the county be represented at the hearing. Assemblyman Walter Eden has been chosen to represent the county by unofficial action and methods of taking care of the expense of representation will be strictly business and there will be no banquet. The September meeting of the association will be held at Placentia on the evening of the 24th.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quart of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.—Adv.

of Orange County, Welcome! Coffee and doughnuts, as they were served on the battlefields, will be served at the park by the Salvation Army. This will be a feature that will give home people an insight to what this army of workers did for the boys "over there."

The Excelsior Dairy will furnish the ice cream for the day at cost, and will donate the thousands of ice cream cones that will be given to the kiddies free of cost. Transportation for the service men and their families is becoming a more serious problem than it was thought it would be. Many requests are coming in for such accommodations by those who are entitled to the honors of the day. At first it was thought that the number that would require transportation would be very limited, but indications today are that arrangements will have to be made for a very large number.

Leave Names with Willey Autoists who will have one or more spare seats in their machines or who will volunteer to take a load to the picnic, are requested to leave their names with Jack Willey, Diamond tire distributor, who has assumed the chairmanship of the transportation committee. His phone number is 600. The soldiers and families without transportation should be at the city hall between 9:30 and 10 a. m. The Crown stage will run a bus to the park every half hour, commencing at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, with the fare at 75 cents for the round trip, plus a war tax of 6 cents.

Families in every community are urged to see that any soldier in their community who has no family is provided for at lunch. The man without family ties should be invited to join a family circle for lunch, and, where possible, transportation for him should be provided for by the family extending the invitation.

There will be hundreds of lunch baskets on the ground and every family should make provision for an extra one or two, so that if it develops at the grounds that some of the service men have been overlooked, there will be plenty to divide with them.

The executive committee which has had the plans for the big event in charge have given lots of their time working out the details and they have spent their own money in various ways in discharging the obligation placed upon them when they were selected at the meeting in Anaheim on Decoration day to assume the management of the affair.

They have made plans on an elaborate scale, in the full belief that the people of the county would back them up with finances. The finances are obtained through the sale of membership buttons in the Orange County War Service Recognition association. Campaigns have been made in all districts of the county for the sale of the buttons at $1 per.

Finances Are Short The people have not subscribed in the numbers it was expected they would and the result is that the committee today is short of finances with which to meet the costs of the celebration. The deficit must be raised before the day of the celebration.

There are hundreds of people in Santa Ana and in every community who have not contributed their dollar to demonstrate to the men who went to war that they are appreciative of the services rendered.

Buttons are on sale in every drug store and bank in the county and those who have not as yet done their duty by the boys in the welcome home celebration should make it a point to buy a button at once. It is a county demonstration and not an individual or an individual city affair, and county pride in making

PORTLAND MAN HAS GAINED 30 POUNDS

Collins Says Everybody Who Knows Him is Talking About His Improvement Since Taking Tanlac

"Tanalac has made such a big improvement in my condition that I feel as well in every way now, as I ever did in my life, and have actually gained thirty pounds since I commenced taking it," said P. T. Collins, who lives at 572 Borthwick St., Portland, Ore., a few days ago.

"I began to have indigestion about three years ago," continued Mr. Collins, "and this condition just kept on getting worse all the time until it finally became chronic. My stomach was in such bad condition that everything I ate disagreed with me and caused me to suffer afterwards. Gas often formed on my stomach, and I would have the worst sort of cramping spells, and sometimes I would be so nauseated that I could not retain what I ate. I also suffered with pains in the small of my back, and if I stooped over I could hardly straighten up again. I was badly constipated all the time, and would often have headaches that would last for nearly a week at a time. I finally got so weak and run down that I had to give up my job. Then my nerves went back on me and I never got a good night's sleep after that. I tell you, I had just about reached the point where I was a complete nervous wreck.

"I didn't think any medicine would do me any good, but I thought I would try Tanlac anyway, and to my surprise I began to improve by the time I had finished my first bottle. Well, from that time on I just kept getting better right along until I am now as well and strong as I ever was. I never had a better appetite, and I can eat just anything I want without suffering afterwards. I honestly believe my stomach is in as good condition as it ever was. The pain has left my back too, I am never constipated now, and those awful headaches are a thing of the past. My nerves are as steady as a clock, and I get in eight or nine hours good, restful sleep every night. I have

RED CROSS HAS ELECTION IN OCTOBER

As the first step toward the annual election, a nominating committee was appointed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the directors of Santa Ana Chapter, American Red Cross. The election is to be held in October. The terms of seven of the directors end this year. They are Miss Hazel Bemus, Mrs. J. W. Tubbs, Mrs. W. S. Rose, Mrs. J. N. Bartholomew, E. V. S. Pomeroy, J. P. Hatfield and C. A. Riggs. The chairman, T. E. Stephenson, appointed Dr. Percy Magill, chairman, Mrs. C. M. McCain, Fred Rafferty, Mrs. Annie Gale and Rev. W. L. H. Benton as the nominating committee.

The national headquarters of the Red Cross has announced a drive for November 3 to 11 for funds and memberships. Last year and the year before, there was a drive for funds and afterward a drive for memberships. This year there will be but one drive. It is probable that Santa Ana chapter will not be called upon for any further quota, since it has

LEWIS RESIGNS AS S. A. V. I. DIRECTOR

Pressure of Other Business Necessitates Giving Up Position

At the monthly meeting of the directors of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Co., Harry W. Lewis of Tustin, resigned as director. His resignation was accepted to take effect at the September meeting of the board, the last Saturday of this month. Lewis is president of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association, which takes a good deal of his time, and he has found it necessary to give up the position on the S. A. V. I. Co. board, where he has served with efficiency and faithfully in order to find time to take care of his personal affairs.

At the meeting of the directors at Orange, Saturday, the report of Superintendent W. A. Ralph was read as follows:

"Work done during the past month is as follows:

"On petition of E. H. Dierker et al to pipe a portion of ditch N, have laid 252 feet of 24-inch pipe, completing said petition.

"On petitions of O. G. Fuller and D. F. Campbell et al, to raise gates, have done work as ordered.

"Have made 3728 feet of 16-inch and 950 feet of 24-inch cement pipe.

"Have done usual cleaning of main canal.

"Have received and stored one car of Victorville cement.

The Zanjero committee's report follows:

"On petition of J. Pollock for a new gate on ditch B 4, we recommend that the petition be denied and that, if the property owners will pay 25 cents per foot and the cost of a gate for Mr. Pollock, the company pipe the ditch on the south side of Santa Clara avenue.

"On verbal petition of F. E. McArthur for extension of ditch JJ, we recommend that the ditch be extended and piped to the east side of Red Hill avenue on the land of the Irvine company, provided those interested pay 15 cents per foot and all the costs of the gates, and furnish the necessary right of way.

"On the matter of changing gate on ditch 'A' at Newport Road, we recommend that the changes on the gate be made at the expense of petitioners, as outlined by the superintendent.

"H. W. Lewis, W. A. Greenleaf, Zanjero Com.

A petition was received from H. A. Brown to raise gate on ditch CC and was referred to the Zanjero committee and Supt. with power to act.

A verbal petition was received from W. S. Hatch for a pipeline on San Juan street, and was granted, the petitioner to furnish the necessary right-of-way and pay one-half the cost of the pipeline and all the cost of the gates.

A petition was received from August Lemke for a bridge over the main canal and was referred to the Zanjero committee and superintendent.

The question of fumigating gas was referred to A. G. Finley and the superintendent.

The secretary was instructed to transfer stock from R. Risley to Eva J. Shaffer as per deed presented.

The secretary was instructed to transfer stock from Sarah J. Rouse to F. W. Chapman, as per deed presented.

The finance committee's report approving bills as follows: Expense account, $7,731.06; construction account, $2,442.14, was read and approved and warrants were ordered drawn.

The following resolution was moved and unanimously carried: Resolved, That on account of the high cost of living caused by the war, a bonus of 10 per cent of the employee's wages for the month of August be given said employees, and warrants were ordered drawn for same.

The secretary was instructed to draw a warrant in favor of Geo. Waldorf for $74.00.

The bookkeeper's salary was placed at $85 per month, commencing September 1, 1919.

The resignation of H. W. Lewis as director to take effect at the September meeting, was received and on motion, accepted.

Trot Out Your Aged Whisker Marvels, Here's Set Aged 61

How old are whiskers, has taken precedence over How Old Is Ann in controversies in the Southern California press as to which city can boast of a man having whiskers that have been adorning a chin for the greatest number of years.

Santa Ana is just entering the controversy and J. H. Hall, former county auditor and now dividing his time between Santa Ana and his home in the east, is the subject upon whom Santa Ana projects a claim to having a resident whose whiskers have been splitting the breezes for many years.

So far as noted by the scribe Hall is entitled to the honors for the longest service of his throat protector, and while his chin adornment is not as lengthy today as it was in days when the captain was sporting around, casting shy glances at young damsels, they still have some length and he twirls them with the same pleasure he did in the days of his youth.

But this story started out to deal with the hirsute part of the general Grand Army man's gear, all makeup. Those whiskers have been doing service for sixty-one years and Capt. Hall believes they will continue to adorn his face for a good many more years.

Capt. Hall never has shaved, and the whiskers today are on the roots of "fuzz" that showed on his face when he was in his teens. He has not given them what one might term extra particular care, but he has groomed them more or less, and they are as soft and silky as they were years ago. They are ten inches long, where in his younger days, they were from fifteen to eighteen inches in length.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

LONG BEACH, Sept. 5.—By a unanimous vote, the Long Beach city commissioners denied the request of C. C. Cole, suspended chief of police, that two members of the Civil Service Commission, Thomas W. Williams and Dr. A. F. Hamman, who are to sit at a hearing of the police head, be removed on the grounds of prejudice and bias.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Sawtelle, Sept. 5.—The annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which is to convene at Columbus, O., during the coming week, will be more largely represented by Civil War veterans from the Pacific branch than has been known for years past.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 5.—Corona boasts of a gallant Buff Cochon rooster which assists the hens by sitting on their nests. This fowl is the property of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McPherson, 213 West Sixth street. For several months the McPhersons say, he has taken turns at sitting on the hens' nests. Finally a special nest of seven eggs was prepared for him. He faithfully sat on this nest and Wednesday seven chicks were hatched.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—The tax on admission to motion picture theaters will be eliminated if the efforts of the Motion Picture Exhibitors of America and other organizations prove successful. Yesterday Harry Leonard, state director of the Motion Picture Exhibitors of America, announced that telegrams were being sent to Congressmen Randall, Nolan and Osborne and Senators Phelan and Johnson, requesting that the plea of the motion picture people to repeal the war tax on admissions be given consideration by the Washington authorities.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 5.—So popular has been the municipal camping ground which recently was established east of Belmont pier that the legislative body today voted to double the size of the place and entered into a five-year lease upon twenty-two additional lots. The enlarged camping ground will be ample for 110 automobile or other camping outfits.

ONTARIO, Sept. 5.—Lieut. Col. B. K. Yount, now in command at March Field, will detail a special flying officer to come to this city to look over landing sites here. Ontario now has three sites which have been used by military and commercial planes and Colonel Yount's representatives will pick the best one of the three for improvements.

The mistress of the house engaged a new servant and gave her instructions how to behave when answering her bell. One evening she rang for a glass of milk and was surprised to see Martha appear with the glass grasped in her hand. "Oh, Martha," she said, "always bring the milk to me on a tray." Martha apologized and promised to remember in the future. A week later the bell rang and the same request was made. This time Martha appeared with the tray and the milk emptied into it. Anxious to please, she curtsied and inquired: "Shall I bring a spoon ma'am, or will you sup it up?"

Once the country got its styles from Paris. Now it gets them from movie heroines.

WESTMINSTER HAPPENINGS

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 5.—As Mrs. Ingham and son Will, and Miss Leora Blakey were going from the Ingham to the Blakey place, a short distance in a machine after dark Saturday evening they met a one-horse rig carrying no light. The road is on the south side of the drainage ditch with a bank of dirt on the north side of the road. The driver of the machine, not being able to see the rig very well, on account of its having no light, drove further to the right than necessary, and ran into a deep chuckhole. Mrs. Ingham was heard to cry out and she was found to be almost in a state of collapse from the severe bump she had received when her head struck the top of the machine. The injury pained her severely and the next morning she was still suffering from it.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bryan, daughters, Misses Harriet and Martha Bryan, and son Layton, called Monday at the home of his brother, O. B. Bryan, but found no one at home, it being the day of the Westminster picnic. They were on their way home from Laguna, where Mrs. Bryan and the girls had been spending a week or more. Mr. Bryan and Layton went down Saturday in their automobile, built by the latter, and brought the family home.

In order to attend the Westminster picnic Monday, Samuel McKee walked from his home in Eagle Rock to Los Angeles, as the strikers had torn up the rails. He caught a car and came to Anaheim, but his mother and sister were obliged to give up the trip.

Mrs. Ben Craig has the whooping cough, which is the third time she has had this experience. The children are recovering from the same malady.

Miss Leora Blakey is taking a vacation visiting friends in Redlands, San Bernardino and Riverside. She left Sunday afternoon in company with her cousin, Arthur Vale and family, who arrived from Santa Paula the evening before. Mr. and Mrs. Howard of Coachella, who are spending a few weeks in Garden Grove to escape the hot weather, called Tuesday on Mrs. Adie Blakey and other friends. They formerly lived near Bolsa.

J. Martin attended the Beatty sale Saturday and purchased a fine Holstein cow.

A machine backing out of a driveway Friday night about 9 o'clock, near O. J. Day's residence, bumped into a buggy in which were three boys. They were going west and were at the south side of the road with a lantern on the buggy. All three boys were dumped out on the roadside at the left, the dashboard broken down and both shafts broken. The boys called to the driver, but he made off without stopping to render assistance. The accident, which easily might have been more serious, resulted in nothing worse than a number of bruises for the boys. The buggy was wired up so they managed to drive home with it.

Dr. Charles Morrison, wife and daughter, of Loma Linda, spent Sunday night at the home of his uncle, E. G. Stone. Dr. Morrison is just back from an eastern trip as far as New Orleans, and to Minnesota, where he has been taking special instruction in surgery under the Mayo brothers. He has been for several years a teacher of anatomy and now has a class at Loma Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Benson returned Tuesday from Lancaster, where they went Saturday to visit Mr. Benson's sister, Mrs. C. A. Sawyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Patterson of Santa Fe Springs, and Mrs. M. J. Patterson of Los Angeles called Sunday afternoon at the J. F. Patterson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hughes were supper guests of Mrs. J. H. Walton Monday evening, where they stopped on their way from Riverside to their home in Huntington Beach.

J. Y. Anderson returned to Los Angeles Monday evening in company with his daughter, Mrs. Mary Tilton.

Mrs. Wm. Spates of Alhambra, who spent the week with her sister, Mrs. George Wright, returned home Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. Samuel Dickey entertained at supper Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCoy and children, Helen Bryce and Wallace, and Mr. A. H. Burlingame and mother, Mrs. Downing of Long Beach, in honor of the birthday of Mrs. McCoy. Mr. Burlingame and Mrs. Downing remained over Sunday and attended the picnic. They were taken home by the McCoy's who came home by way of Bell.

W. B. McCoy and family and Mrs. S. Dickey were guests Sunday of Mrs. Perle Glass at Corona.

Mrs. Francell Ecord and children of Erie, Nevada, visited her mother, Mrs. H. Swall, last week. The family has been visiting in the east during Mr. Ecord's vacation. Finding a strike in progress on his return, he is awaiting developments in Los Angeles. He is an employee of the railroad company.

Rev. R. Pyke, who preached Sunday, was entertained by Mrs. W. T. Warde and Mrs. J. F. Patterson.

Rev. W. T. Warde has returned from his month's vacation and will resume his work, preaching morning and evening next Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. D. Roome and son Joseph, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Roome's mother, Mrs. G. B. Jackson, of Arizona, called Sunday at the H. R. Hansen home.

Miss Henrietta Dickey went to Pasadena last week, where she will spend the rest of her vacation before returning to Stanford.

Glenn Zryan and William Kerr returned Wednesday from Idylwild, where they had been with a surveying party in the mountains beyond.

George Abbott returned Monday evening after two days spent in Huntington Park. He was accompanied by Mrs. Abbott.

The beet dump opened Monday with Carmichael of Garden Grove, weigher; Jake Price, sample catcher; Wm. Gates, dirt-weigher; Earl McDowell, dumper. G. A. Beavers brought the first load.

The families of O. J. Day and Clyde Day visited relatives in Orange Sunday.

A party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Randall of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kerfoot, and Mrs. Arthur Kerfoot, and Miss May Kerfoot, spent Labor Day in the Santa Ana canyon.

Lloyd Edwards, who spent several weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edwards in Santa Ana, returned home Thursday. He is occupying a tent on the place in order not to contract whooping cough from the children.

Albert Kettler returned Monday from a week spent at his home in Blythe. He and Mrs. Kettler left on Wednesday morning to visit his parents in Los Angeles.

Miss May Kerfoot went to Pasadena Tuesday to spend a week with friends before the opening of school.

R. P. Hazard is plowing out beets on Mrs. B. A. Hazard's place this week. He has been hauling beets to Talbert while the strike was in progress.

KANSAS ASSOCIATION PICNIC SEPTEMBER 13

All who ever lived in the Sunflower State are called to meet under the auspices of the Kansas Association of Southern California for the great fall picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, September 13, in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles. There will be county registers and headquarters so you can find the old neighbors even with ten thousand present. There will be a brief program opening about 2 o'clock, but the main purpose will be to have a good time.

Take your baskets well filled. Coffee will be served free to all who buy the souvenir badges. Every "old-timer" should register for one of the prizes offered. Each one who learns of this picnic is asked to pass the word along.

M. B. Schnee, Chiropodist, Phone 176.

celebration Shoe Sale

Celebrating the Opening of Our Fifth Store
With the Greatest Sale of Footwear
We Have Ever Held

TO OUR MANY FRIENDS AND PATRONS we take pleasure in announcing to you that we are opening our fifth store. This store is located at San Pedro, Cal., and will be the fifth link in the chain that eventually will reach throughout the width and breadth of this glorious state.

FOUR YEARS AGO OUR FIRST STORE WAS OPENED in Long Beach, then the one in Pasadena, and Santa Ana followed in rapid succession. A year ago the store at Anaheim opened, and now the one at San Pedro.

THERE IS A REASON FOR OUR RAPID GROWTH AND THIS IS IT.—We have never lost sight of the fact that you were the ones upon whom our success depended, and in order to obtain your patronage and good will, we must deserve it.

OUR RAPID GROWTH has proved that our methods are right—THE PUBLIC APPRECIATES the shoes we sell them—and the low prices we ask.

WE ARE JUSTLY PROUD OF OUR SUCCESS AND WE ARE GOING TO CELEBRATE

Starting Tomorrow GREATEST SHOE SALE We Have Ever Held---Our Celebration Sale

In this sale we will offer hundreds upon hundreds of real shoe bargains, we have gone over our stock and in the face of a rising market, have repriced many lines of footwear; we have included many lines of fall footwear just arrived AND IN MANY INSTANCES THE PRICE WE ASK YOU TO PAY IS LESS THAN THE PRICE WE WOULD PAY WERE WE TO BUY THEM NOW AT THE FACTORY.

GUARDSMEN ARE ANXIOUS FOR HOME TRIP

Santa Ana Bays at National Shoot at Caldwell, N. Y.,
Long For Home

Although having a good time, the Santa Ana men who went to Caldwell, N. Y., in the big national shoot, as representatives of the California National Guard, are getting homesick, and anxious for the day when they can head for home, according to V.
Fenley. Writing to a member of the Register staff, Fenley says:

"Although we are having a good time here, we will be glad to be home again.

"It has rained here several times since we arrived, but it very seldom stops the shooting.

"A lot of the men here are from France and are used to the mud.
The marines are first in most of the matches, as about all they do is shoot.

The California civil team have been doing pretty well.
The National Guard team has not been up for record yet. Just practice.

I have been to New York a couple of times, and to Coney Island. There sure are a lot of places to go and lots of things to see; it costs about $10 round trip from here to New York.

I intend visiting the Metropolitan building before I come home.

Almost every branch of Uncle Sam's fighting machine is represented here, with all kinds of ordnance and other displays.

Every night they have a fine display of signal rockets, search-lights, signal grenades and machine gun and automatic rifle shooting, both plain and tracer bullets, trench mortars and light artillery barrages.

"Our team is staying in town now; it was so muddy out at camp. The priest of the Catholic church here let us have an old residence building that they have been using as a school house. It is just two doors from Grover Cleveland's birthplace.

The people here are anxious to talk to anyone from California.

V. FENLEY.

CYPRESS NEWS NOTES

CYPRESS, Sept. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh LaRue took advantage of Labor Day and went into Los Angeles on Saturday evening and stayed all night with Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Lamron, and Sunday morning all motored down to Portuguese Bend to fish, but didn't have much luck.

They came back to Redondo and camped over night and Monday fished off the pier, catching about fifty fish.
They came home Monday evening, where all the neighbors in Cypress had all the fish they could eat.

Mrs. Roy Grindley had the misfortune to cut her hand badly while screwing on a jar lid when the jar broke. She was taken to Dr. Beebe of Anaheim, who turned the cut out several times and her hand is healing nicely.

Carroll Bunyard of Artesia has been staying with his folks at Cypress for a few days, as his heart has been bothering him, and the doctor says he will have to be careful for a few weeks.

Mrs. Hugh LaRue heard from her son Ralph, who says Berkeley is a fine school, and even with the hard studies, he is having the time of his life.

Mr. and Mrs. Sabe Robinson attended church in Los Angeles last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. John Wertz of Whittier took an auto ride last Sunday to Riverside, and from there on to Pa-mosa and spent a few hours in Ga-mesha park and came home.

Everybody in Cypress is looking forward to the big day at Orange County park on September 9th, and Cypress won't be ashamed to turn out, as everybody has responded in buying buttons to help entertain the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nonce and the two Taylor girls, Misses Addie May and Mollie, went to Long Beach last Tuesday fishing. They took their lunches and met Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith,
Mrs. Nonce's sister, at the beach.
Mrs. Beckwith and baby returned home with them.

Mrs. Charles Henderson Las just reached home from the east, where she had been visiting relatives for the last three months. She had quite a time getting home on account of the strike in San Francisco, and was there for a week before she could get out.

The beet dump is pretty slow these days on account of not being able to get cars. They have only been getting two cars a day.

Jack Orquay and two young men of Los Angeles are fixing up the old blacksmith shop here and are going to make it into a first-class garage.
The supervisors were here yesterday, looking over the new boulevard, which has already cracked in a good many places, and they lay the blame on the concrete being no good.

Cuthbert Miller had a letter from his folks, who are in Bishop, hunting and fishing, and having a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sconce bought the place which they have been living on southwest of Cypress. There are twenty-three lots on the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Tedford have moved in the Sid Feagan home and will help Mr. Feagan with his chickens.

The Cutter house will probably be completed by the end of next week.
Mrs. A. R. Bradley has been on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Chinback and son Earl were visitors at the Gillison's last Thursday evening and Mrs. Gillison and son
Andrew and Mrs. Chinback and son
Earl spent the day with Mrs. Bun-yard last Friday.

Mrs. Musser entertained Mrs. Clin-back and son last Sunday.

Mr. Krotz is getting along fine after his severe illness, and all of Dugans

Pancakes all America loves

No wonder these pancakes have become America's favorite breakfast! One taste will tell you why.

It makes your mouth water just to look at them—they're so nice and brown. Then you cut them—and find them so tender your fork cuts through a whole pile. But it's when you taste them—taste that rich, delicate flavor—that you'll never be satisfied with ordinary pancakes again!

Ask your grocer for a package of Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour. It's all ready mixed (even sweet milk is in it)—you just add water. Learn why so many millions of Aunt Jemima breakfasts are enjoyed every year! Use it for delicious muffins, too!

and Krotzes attended the fair at Downey last Friday.

Mrs. Hartsell went home last Tuesday to Imperial. She was here looking after her father, Mr. Krotz and her sister, Miss Irene Krotz, went back with her to take up her work again in her brother's store.

Mr. and Mrs. Rennie and Mrs.
Batis motored to Santa Ana this week.

Mrs. G. M. Gillison and son spent the night in Los Alamitos with Mrs.
Cox last Sunday.

Sidney Feagan has a fine stand of corn on his place, and also a fine bunch of chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Price of Los Angeles motored to Cypress last Sunday and called on old neighbors.

O. P. Bunyard has been having his orange trees fumigated this last week. He has a fine lot of grapes this year.

A. R. Bradley has just about got all of his beets out of the field. He would have had them out much sooner if it had not been for the railroad strike.

Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert Miller were visitors at John Sconce's last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Bunyard motored to Artesia last Tuesday evening to visit their son Carroll, who has been quite sick this last week, but is better now.

A COMMON EXPERIENCE

"I tell you, gentlemen," said the great explorer to the crowd in the hotel smoking room who were listening breathlessly to his recital,
"you can't imagine what things are like in the Arctic regions."

"Oh, I don't know," said one.

"Even if we haven't seen it, we can imagine what it feels like."

"I doubt it. It's impossible until you've really seen it; until you've stood there a small, insignificant atom, surrounded by vast stretches of white."

"Oh, yes, I know! I've been like that."

"Really! And where was that, may I ask?"

"First time I appeared in public in a dress shirt!"—Dallas News.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus, instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

For Fathers and Mothers

What will be the future of that boy or girl?

Some day they are going to be grown up.

Naturally you want them to be able to take advantage of the opportunities to enter business that are usually missed through lack of capital.

In other words, you want them to start out in life with a good banking bank.

How can it be done?

The VICTORY ACCOUNT is the answer.

In ten years from now you will be able to present your boy or girl with $1000 if you deposit $7.67 in this Bank each month.

And if you should die in the meantime this Bank would call upon the insurance company for enough money to increase your VICTORY ACCOUNT to $1000.

Here's a suggestion:

Supposing you have a son. Open a VICTORY ACCOUNT for him and have the insurance on your life. You make the deposits until he is earning money and then insist upon him keeping up either a part or all of the deposits.

Save saving is fine discipline.

It gives boys and girls the special training in economy and thrift that is usually so lacking.

Start TODAY!

Then instead of having to plod along with the "crowd" your boy or girl will have a chance to be in the lead.

And the VICTORY ACCOUNT will have done it.
Think it over.

The Founder of the First Nation-Wide Tailoring Service

IN 1876, M. Born conceived the idea which makes it possible for you to buy better clothes, today, at thirty dollars a suit, than your grandfather could buy for sixty.

The first nation-wide tailoring service was founded upon the belief that an organization of expert woolen men, designers, cutters and tailors could produce better clothes than a one-man shop—and produce them more economically.

The tremendous growth of this industry proves that the idea was sound. Today, the House of Born tailors clothes to the individual measure of nearly half a million men yearly.

Style, fit and long service are a matter of scientific certainty in a Born-Tailored suit—and you'll find the price lower than the figures asked for any other clothes of equal value. Let us show you how good a suit we can make at the price you want to pay.

UNUSUAL TREES PHOTOGRAPHED FOR SCRIBE

D. W. McDannald Takes Agricultural Writer on Trip Over the County

By D. W. McDANNALD
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, Los Angeles, Sept. 5.—Guy E. Mitchell, a noted scribe of Washington, D. C., and Charles Rozell of Orange, the latter with his camera and a goodly supply of plates, and I made a short cut auto trip over Orange county yesterday, visiting several points of horticultural interest. We secured photographs of groves and trees of special importance. It fell to my lot to play the part of host and chaperone to Mr. Mitchell who is a tenderfoot, pure and unalloyed. He is an eastern agricultural newspaper writer, and it was with some show of pride that I introduced him to some of the interesting points in Orange county.

Among the photos taken was one of the hybrid nut tree—a typical live-oak bearing genuine California wild walnuts. Mr. Mitchell, like all tourists, was a bit skeptical, though it was one of our stock stories, built for eastern consumption, and demanded to be shown. A personal examination of the tree was entirely convincing, and he stated it as his belief that this is a unique freak, an unheard of cross between two such widely separated members of the plant family.

Mr. Mitchell was also shown the most ancient planted walnut trees in California, and a photograph was taken of a row of the enormous old seedlings, which were large trees bearing full crops, 42 years ago when P. T. Adams bought the ranch where he now lives. Mr. Adams stated that after doctoring up these original trees, which had been badly gophered, he planted out six acres more to walnuts. "What the h—l are you going to do with all the nuts when these trees come into bearing?" chorused his neighbors.

And this year Orange county will harvest a 10,000 ton walnut crop and there is no anxiety about "over production."

"Well, I must admit that things do move out here," remarked Mr. Mitchell. "I can remember just 40 years ago, picking the walnut crop from a single tree down on the old homestead in Maryland and the crop was scarce equal to that from a single limb of the Orange county tree."

Other interesting photographs were secured. Especially will they be of interest to eastern readers.

We showed the visitor what is probably the largest camphor tree in the state, the Carab tree that produces the St. Johns Bread, and a strange varnish nut tree—west of Orange—the seeds of which were brought from China, and the fruit of which in the Orient yields an indestructible varnish or japalac. Mr. Mitchell is of the opinion that this is the tung oil tree of China, and he states that the federal department of agriculture several years ago attempted to introduce similar trees in various parts of the United States, but with what success he does not know.

The Orange county trees are about 8 years old and are laden with fruit almost bursting with a sticky varnish-like juice. If this singular tree is commercially important in America, the Orange county experiment offers sufficient evidence of the fact that the trees will thrive in at least this portion of California.

HARPER HAPPENINGS

HARPER, Sept. 5.—T. L. Taylor and wife of Coachella Valley are here on a visit with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Mellett. Mrs. Taylor is Mrs. Mellett's sister.

Dr. T. C. Whitehead and family are building a five-room house on their ten-acre ranch on Victoria street, west of Myers street. He has a fine location, and like many others, is looking to see oil wells bloom in that neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, who have won numerous prizes for vegetables, fruits and flowers grown on their prolific five acre ranch, have had a fine season selling their products on the Newport market, which they cover twice a week.

Mrs. S. W. Clark visited in Los Angeles on Monday.

The Fairview Water company is going to build a reservoir.

W. W. Middleton is furnishing his new house which is one of the best on the Fairview tract.

D. J. Dodge is already booking orders for the fall delivery of his excellent apple crop.

L. P. Bauman has moved onto his new home place, camping in his new garage until he can build a new house.

W. Salisbury is trying out a five-acre settling of Avocado, interest with the most deserving will be retained and the other dug up.

George A. Waterman has raised a fine nursery of apple tree stock this season, some of which have grown to a height of over six feet.

Report has it that the Liberty Oil Well is to be re-bored and sunk deeper, with a hope of making it a successful producer.

Mrs. W. J. Corrick of Gardena is visiting with the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ellis of Fairview Farms; she is the mother of Mrs. Ellis.

E. E. Finch, formerly a resident here, came down from Pasadena on Monday to look over his old haunts.

On the strength of the Inter-State Oil discovery a man who bought five acres in that vicinity three or four months ago has been offered $1,000 raise on the price he paid.

C. L. Lancaster, who has about 50 acres of land lying in the bend of the river about Bitter Point, is glad to know that prospectors have traced the oil channel from the Inter-State well over the bluff and down across his land into the ocean.

WARS MUST END IS DEMAND OF WOMEN

Peace League Means More to Them Than It Does to the Men

DR. SHAW'S STIRRING PLEA.

(By the Late Dr. Anna Howard Shaw.)

Seven million one hundred thousand men who had laid down their lives in the great war. Think of it! Seven million, one hundred thousand young men had died on the field of battle!

What does that mean to the women of the world? It means that seven million one hundred thousand women walked day by day with their faces toward an open grave that they might give life to a son. It means that seven million one hundred thousand little children lay in the arms of a mother whose love had made them face even the terrors of death that they might become the mothers of men.

It means that year after year these women had put up their lives into the lives of their sons until they had reared them to be men. For what? In the hope that these sons of theirs could give to the world the things for which women dream, the things for which women hope and pray and long. These were the things that the women had in their hearts when they gave birth to their sons.

But who can estimate the value of seven million one hundred thousand dead sons of the women of the world? Who can estimate the price which the women have paid for this war; what it has cost them, not only in the death of their sons, because that is a phase of our war to which we look.

The Courage of Women.

We hear our orators tell us of the courage of our men. How they went across the sea. Very few of them remember to tell us of the courage of our women, who also went across the sea; of the women who died nursing the sick and wounded; the women who died in the hospitals, where the terrible bombs came and drove them almost to madness. They tell us nothing of the forty thousand English women who went to work back of the trenches in France.

They tell us nothing of the thousands upon thousands upon thousands of women who not only toiled and worked and slaved in order that the war might be successful, but we do not hear of the thousands of women, not alone in Armenia, not alone in Montenegro, not alone in Serbia, but in Flanders, in Belgium, in Rumania, in Russia—the thousands of women who lie in graves today, murdered, so horribly murdered that men dare not speak of it.

And yet we women are asked what we know about the League of Nations; asked what we can understand about a League of Nations. Oh men! the horrible deaths; the horrible lives of thousands upon thousands of women today in all these nations, who must live, and who must look in the faces of children unwelcomed, undesired—of little children—and know that these are the result of war.

And then ask women why they should be interested in a league of peace?

Women Suffer Most From War.

If there is any body of citizens in the world who ought to be interested in a league to ultimately bring to the world peace it is the mothers of men, and the women who suffered as only women can suffer in the war and in devastated countries.

And we call upon them, we women of the world call upon the men who have been fighting all these battles of the years, the men who have led armies, and led armies close to their deaths.

We are now calling upon the men of the world to in some way or another find a passage out of the sea of death. We are asking them to form a league which will bring hope to the women of the future. If women are to bear sons only that they may die, if women may not have hope and aspirations for their children, if women may not dream the dreams that have in them the hope of the highest civilizations, the highest moral and spiritual life of the people—if women may not have these in their hearts as the mothers of men, then women will cease to desire to be the mothers of men. And why should they not? Why should they not?

ORANGE COUNTY is primarily and fundamentally—past, present and future—an agricultural section. Its soil products amount to nearly a Hundred Million Dollars annually.

Thus during these critical days of reconstruction and tremendous business activity, there rests upon Orange County great responsibility, and there is presented to her splendid opportunities.

The energy of the nation now has full play. Business is leaping with bounds; there is so much to be done for those at home, and Orange County must do her full share.

War stripped us down to necessities; swept away our reserve supplies; taxed factory, mine and farm.

Now we must supply not only our customary wants, but we must again store up our normal reserves, as well as meet the current demands of a depleted world.

There must be no paralysis of production; confidence between capital and labor must prevail; constructive co-operation must rule; the world's supplies must be enormously multiplied.

The new American spirit, the spirit of Service, must govern. With this spirit prevalent we take up our huge task with enthusiasm.

We offer our services and facilities and invite your co-operation and support.

WOMAN SUFFERED 12 YEARS

Finally Made Well by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Emmitsburg, Md.—"I suffered for twelve or fifteen years, and was treated by a physician, but got little relief. I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, so I thought I would try it, and it did me more good than all the doctor's medicine. I am a farmer's wife and do my housework all the time, and I am better now than I have been for years. I am never without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house and have recommended it to several of my friends. You are perfectly welcome to publish my letter for the good it may do other women."—Mrs. ETTIE WARREN, Emmitsburg, Md.

Backache and nervousness are symptoms or nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment. Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Warren's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Workmen in Santa Barbara who pried loose an old sign which had been on a building for years, set loose more than five hundred bats. The creatures, blinded by the sun, flew into the pedestrians' faces and many of them took refuge in the trimming on women's hats. If some fashion designer should hear of this, he might get a copyright on hats ornamented with bat fur.

HIGH SCHOOL'S DOCTORS READY MUSIC PERIODS ANNOUNCED FOR PART IN 'FLU' FIGHT

Under C. A. Gustlin, Excellent Development Expected This Year

For the purpose of accommodating the greatest possible number of students who may desire to add music to their high school course this year, the following schedule for music subjects has been fixed:

Glee clubs: 1st period, 8:20 to 9:00; Harmony: 4th period, 10:35 to 11:15; Band: 5th period, 11:20 to 12:10; Orchestra: 8th period, 2:20 to 3:00.

For the first three or four weeks the Glee club members will unite for daily class work in theoretical subjects preliminary to the extensive study of part songs.

The same will be true of the band and orchestra classes, which will meet together at the fifth period for study of theory, sight reading, interpretation, technique of instruments, and such other subjects as will facilitate later rehearsals.

Following the theory that the school exists for the student and not the student for the school, and also the idea that a student's desire for a subject is indicative of a certain amount of aptitude and ability for that subject, an effort will be made to enroll every single applicant for musical courses in the high school this year.

The work will be under the exclusive personal charge of Clarence A. Gustlin, whose name and ability are well known to most Orange county residents. Past associations with some of the leading school music instructors of this country and a close observation of the trend of musical development have influenced Mr. Gustlin to turn his attention to public school music, which offers so much wider field to the teacher who would impress certain ideals and standards upon American musical life than does the private profession.

No one thing in American life today is so assuring of a great musical future as the extraordinary attention which is being paid everywhere throughout the nation to musical education. No high school is up-to-date which is without its symphony orchestra, its band, glee clubs, harmony and theory departments, etc. In fact, very many grammar schools now have these and the quality of work done is of surprisingly high standard. In many schools instruction is given in piano, voice, violin, organ and other instruments. Private and class lessons are available, and especially talented students are urged to supplement this work with study under an outside professional. The plan makes music study available to all who desire it and the hidden talent is thereby discovered and encouraged.

Progressive educators are attaching increasing importance to music as an all-around cultural subject. No other study touches upon such a diversity of other subjects, physics, mathematics, history, languages, physiology, dramatics, esthetics, etc., nor does any other involve such a complexity of physical, mental and psychological actions and reactions. Music is likewise a democratic, socializing art, and present day social problems demand the exercise of every helpful factor for their solution. The community singing movement is one example of an attempt to meet the situation with the aid of music.

Universities are now giving higher recognition to music credits. Students should bear this in mind in selecting a course of study. Mr. Gustlin's slogan, "Make Santa Ana Known for Good Music," will no doubt receive strong support in the coming year's accomplishments in the music department of the high school, and the newly voted auditorium will be a tremendous contributing factor.

IRRIGATION PROBLEMS TO BE THRESHED OUT

TULARE, Cal., Sept. 5.—Questions concerning pending irrigation projects in the San Joaquin Valley are to be threshed out as far as possible at an irrigation conference, called by the Tulare County Board of Trade, which opened this morning. Sessions continue throughout tomorrow.

Members of the state water commission, county irrigation officials, of floors of several counties, government attaches, officials of irrigation districts, water users, business men and others will take part in the discussions, as will officials of the State Railway Commission. It is expected that from the discussions and suggestions some comprehensive irrigation project for the entire valley may be evolved, with adequate provision of water supply for all sections.

FREE FEEDS GALORE FOR VISITING GOBS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Free feeds galore, dances in every direction, free trips through Chinatown, auto trips, home-cooked dinners, baseball games, athletic sports and various other entertainment features are making Jack Tar, the enlisted men of the Pacific Fleet, well pleased with San Francisco and the other bay cities, so the sailors themselves are to feature today's program with stunts of their own.

The championship of the fleet will be symbolized by a trophy cup from the Olympic Club, and a race between cutter crews of the different ships to decide the title will be held in the bay today.

Disease Coming Back, Says Cincinnati Physician Seeking U. S. Aid

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 5.—That influenza is coming back is the opinion of scientists who have pledged support to Dr. O. P. Geier, of Cincinnati, in his fight for a congressional appropriation of $5,000,000 for the study of the causes and means of prevention of influenza.

The measure is favored by the preventive medicine section of the American Medical association, and the fight for it is being led in congress by Senator Warren G. Harding and Representative Simeon Fess, both of Ohio.

Numerous health authorities and organizations have endorsed it in letters received by Dr. Geier.

"We will have a recurrence of influenza this fall," writes Dr. A. R. Lewis, commissioner of health of the state of Oklahoma.

"That influenza will come back is a sure thing, and that what we want to know is how to guard against it, and quickly cure it when once it has taken hold," says A. N. Dubois, public health expert of Alabama.

The Life Extension Institute of New York, of which Wm. H. Taft is board chairman, is backing the fight for $5,000,000 anti-influenza appropriation.

Dr. Eugene L. Fisk, director of the institute, says: "The fighting of this epidemic is not a matter of medical treatment, but prevention along definite lines which we cannot follow, until we identify our enemy and know where his machine gun nests are located." He adds that until the cause of influenza is located the disease is as dangerous an enemy as were the Germans.

Dr. Geier also has enlisted in his campaign a number of industrial organizations. Among these are the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. and the Erie, Pa., works of the General Electric Co. Dr. A. G. Cratch, physician of the latter organization, also has asked the Northwestern Pennsylvania Manufacturers' association to give its aid in the fight.

The board of health of Erie, Pa., has endorsed the $5,000,000 fund and has called on congress to appropriate the money.

The measure has been endorsed also by Joseph W. Eilms, noted sanitary engineer of Cleveland; Dr. Alfred G. Burdick, managing editor of the American Journal of Clinical Medicine; Dr. John F. Anderson, director of the Smith Laboratories, Brunswick, N. J.; Dr. Chas. Scott Miller, chief of the division of vital statistics, Philadelphia, and by health boards and medical associations in scores of cities.

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER

WINTERSBURG & SMELTZER, Sept. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham left Saturday morning to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Claud Graham, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Graham of Puente, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Gruisire of Los Angeles on a deer hunting trip to Steele's ranch, in the Mint Canyon. They returned Monday evening, having a very enjoyable trip, but killing no deer. Miss Ethel Graham visited with Jennie Ufford of Huntington Beach during their absence.

Mrs. Geo. Crane and daughters, Misses Mary and Floreal and Mrs. Chas. Graham, accompanied by Mrs. Ames and daughters, Miss Marguerite and Mrs. Conrad of Huntington Beach, were Friday afternoon visitors with Mrs. Lee Grey at North Whittier Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Burgess and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Claud Graham at Puente.

Harold King, from the Irvine ranch, was a guest of Albert Naddux from Saturday evening until Monday evening.

John Cady came home Saturday and during his visit here, the family are going on a vacation to the San Juan Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. George McGuirk motored to Hemet Saturday, where Mr. McGuirk made the splendid record of killing over 60 doves. They returned Monday.

The sermon at the Methodist church of Wintersburg for next Sunday morning will be: "Methodism Adapted to the New Day." Rev. Carl M. Ross, the pastor, will deliver the sermon. Sunday night he will preach on "What Yet?"

The Epworth League is planning for a rally Sunday, September 14. There will be a good program with special music. The rally is intended for the members to make a fresh start after the summer vacation.

The Highway Contest of the Methodist Sunday school classes shows the following mileage for the past Sunday: Class No. 1, Overland, 275 miles; Class No. 2, Cadillac, 300 miles; Class No. 3, Ford, 295 miles; Class No. 4, Stutz, 300 miles; Class No. 5, Packard, 420 miles; Class No. 6, Hupmobile, 285 miles; Class No. 7, Dodge, 275 miles. The journey will soon be ended if the Packard keeps up its splendid record. It is now far

The Springdale grammar school will not open until the 15th of September, instead of the 8th, as it was reported.

Mrs. B. A. Farrar has just returned from a pleasant week's vacation spent at Catalina Island. She made the trip with friends from Los Angeles. Among the many delightful boat rides they enjoyed while there, was a ride on the glass bottom boat through the beautiful submarine gardens. Mrs. Farrar had been to the island several times before, but the recent improvements made this trip much more agreeable and pleasant.

Miss Florence Larter and Miss Mildred Donahue returned Sunday evening from a vacation journey. They left here the 28th of July and motored as far as Mt. Rainier, Washington.

They had a very interesting trip, but found many of the roads very rough. The entire distance traveled was about 4000 miles.

Mrs. W. Henderson from Etiwanda was a visitor with Mrs. J. Porter of the Green Wing Club, last week. Mrs. Anna Swaine of Los Angeles spent the week-end visiting with her sister, Mrs. J. Porter.
